

Deflate Baby Blimp To Save It From Destruction At Butler Airport

IT'S EASY TO GET NATIONS TO GO TO PARLEY, WILL SAYS

(Special To The News)
SANTA MONICA, Cal., Oct.
17.—Acceptances are flowing in mightily fast to the invitations to be at the disarmament conference.

Nations are just like people, they never have any trouble getting 'em to go to some sort of convention. But it's getting 'em to do anything that amounts to anything after they get there I just want to hear a talkie of France translated in English when somebody suggests going away with submarines.

Russia and China wasn't invited. They have disarmed now till they are practically fighting with their fists. Japan has to have a navy, otherwise there would be none in the Far East.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Time and tide wait for no man but a truck loaded with coal halted the northbound street car traffic on Highland avenue yesterday afternoon about four o'clock for half an hour when it refused to make the hill near Grant street, stopped with one front wheel on the track. Another truck, also loaded with coal, tried in vain to help it out and after a lot of effort gave it up. A wrecker was then called and pulled them to one side and much to the satisfaction of the homeward bound passengers, the cars were then able to move on.

New Castle has free parks, playgrounds, etc., but Pa New thinks that a large free city parking ground would be of great benefit to the city. Parking space is the first thing motorists look for, when entering a city. A free parking ground is of utmost importance to stores of the city. Definite signs leading to the ground would also help.

Well, it seems that we still have the same railroad stations. Wouldn't it be wonderful to wake up some morning and find some new railroad stations in this city? But we shall just keep on dreaming for a while, it seems.

Street lights on North Mercer street are receiving a thorough cleaning.

Pulaski road is nearly finished. The part as yet under construction is about a mile this side of Pulaski. If good weather continues, it will be finished in about a week.

The splendid machinery used in the road construction work on the new Pulaski concrete road, shows what progress has been made in the last few years in road building.

Limestone is being placed in the center strips of the new road to Walwood. This is being rolled and macadamized.

At the New Castle post office they're making preparations for the usual Christmas rush. Postmaster Crawford reminds everyone that a "mail early" campaign will be launched to encourage such this year, as in the past. By sending parcels, post or card early, better service is given and clerks and carriers who serve you appreciate it more than you think. It's still early, but just give it a thought.

The weather of this morning afforded a striking contrast with that of Tuesday morning. There was a chill in the air which was smothered by the fog two mornings ago. And the air was as clear as it ever gets.

Pa New hears that Ben Franklin junior high is making an effort to uniform its band. Perhaps someone who knows that organization, which abounds in talent, might help out. They've asked for public donations to enlarge the fund they have already established.

Rural avenue hill has become one of the north hill's main arteries for traffic. The road has been improved (Continued On Page Two)

Gas Bags Are Ripped Open To Save Airship From Destruction

BLIMP FIRST DOWN AT ELLWOOD AIRPORT

Will Be Shipped Back To Akron In Auto Trucks

(International News Service) BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 17.—The Goodyear Blimp Vigilant is piled in a heap at the Pittsburgh-Butler airport seven miles south of here today after two unsuccessful efforts to take off in a 32 mile an hour wind. When the ground crew of the blimp was unable to get the mooring mast erected in time to tie up the ship, it was necessary to rip open the gas-bags and let the blimp sink to the ground in a heap. It will be taken to Akron by trucks.

The ship had been refueled after reaching the airport and was attempting to continue its journey to Akron when it was necessary to deflate the bag to save it from destruction.

The blimp, piloted by Lieut. Brannigan, was drifting over Ellwood City near here early this morning, when Lieut. J. H. Neale, flying instructor at the airport took off with a mechanic and flew to the aid of the (Continued On Page Two)

Blimp In Trouble; Passes Over County Early This Morning

Airship Appears To Have Engine Trouble Or To Have Lost Its Bearings

County residents east of New Castle reported sighting a baby blimp, travelling in the direction of Butler, which either had lost its bearings or had developed engine trouble. It was first noticed about 7:30, a short distance beyond the poor farm and north of the Butler Road. At that time, it was travelling extremely low and kept circling about, as if unable to determine its course. At times it looked as if it would land. It was successively sighted at Princeton, Portersville, and Prospect, where its actions were the same. Finally it continued in the direction of the Butler airport.

Car Loaded With Coal Breaks Loose At Portage, Pa., Kills Two In Hotel Kitchen

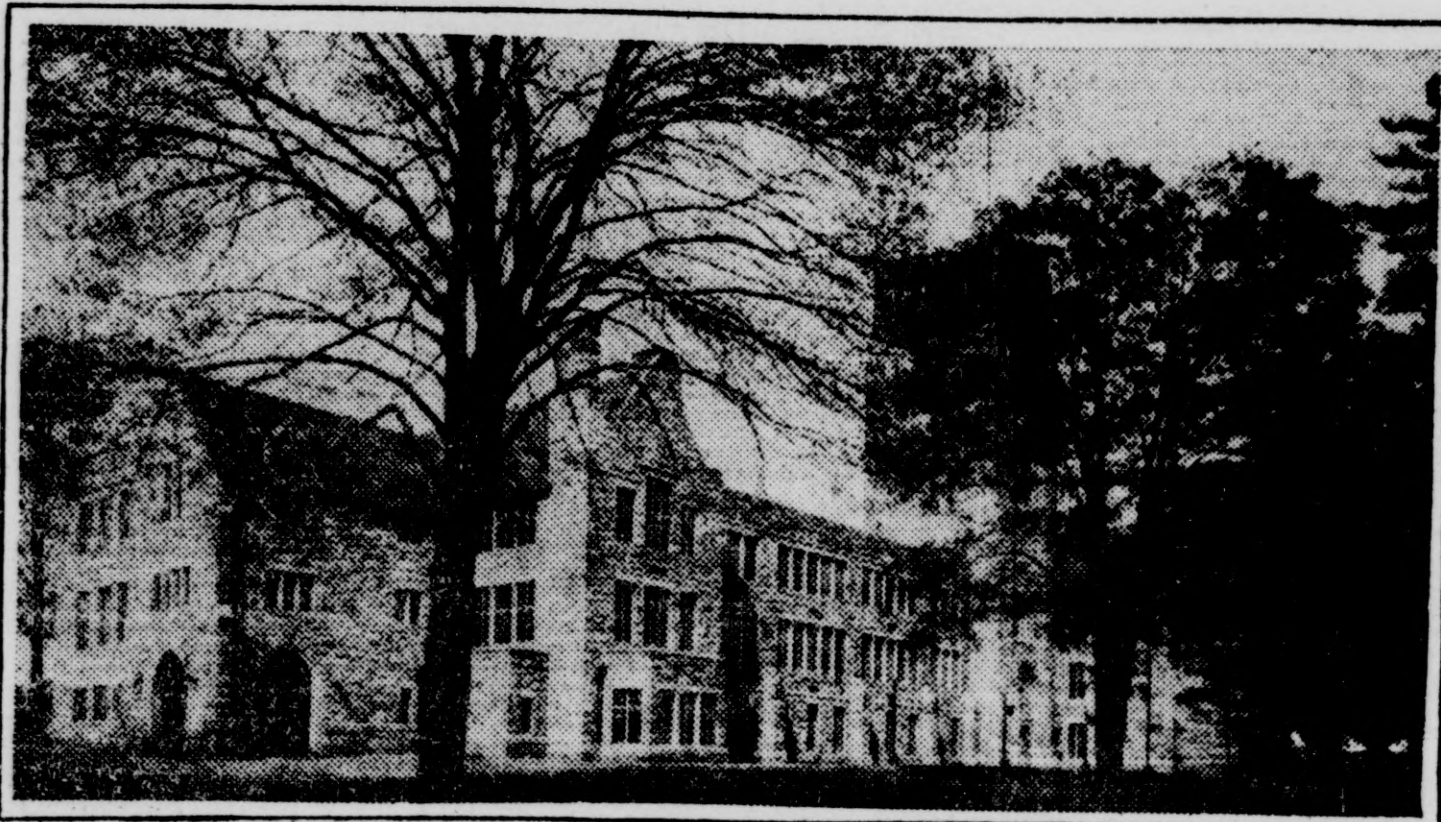

OWNER OF HOTEL PROVES VICTIM

(International News Service) JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 17.—Two persons were killed today when a runaway car containing 50 tons of coal jumped the track at Portage, near here and crashed into the kitchen of the Waldorf Hotel after a wild flight from the Bentley Colliery No. 1 of the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company on the Martins Branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The dead: Mrs. Annie Kelly, 65, and August Hess, 48, her son-in-law and owner of the hotel. They were the only persons in the kitchen of the hotel at the time and were crushed beneath the wreckage.

The car had been loaded at the Bentley Colliery when the brakes slipped and the car started down the tracks, traveling about 11 and a half miles before it was derailed.

Identification Of Man's Body Is Not Yet Made

Clothing Seems To Fit Description Of Man Missing Since Last Summer

REPORT MAN SEEN LYING ALONG ROAD

Authorities Aim To Complete Identification Of Body Found Near Harbor

Nothing definite as to the identity of the man whose body was found yesterday near the Harbor has been learned, although Coroner J. P. Caldwell has had inquiries for minute descriptions of the clothing.

Frank Neal, who lives near the Harbor, was at the sheriff's office this morning and told Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds that during the first part of August he had seen a man lying by the roadside, a short distance from where the body had been found. Neal had talked to the man who said that he was not feeling very well but that it was nothing serious.

Case Was Investigated
Neal reported the case to Reynolds who happened to be at A. T. Eckles store at the Harbor. Reynolds went to investigate but could not find the man at the place designated and supposed that he had gone away. It now develops that Neal had seen him across the road from where the body was found, and not over fifty feet from the latter spot. Neal stated this morning that he had never seen the man before.

Mrs. Emma Barris of Pennsylvania avenue called up the coroner this morning and stated that from the description of the clothing, she believed that the man had been stopping with her son, Audley Barris of 616½ Reynolds street.

Mrs. Audley Barris was called and informed the coroner that a man by the name of John Daugherty had been staying at their home last summer. He had left one morning to go to the north hill to collect some money that he said was due him. That was (Continued On Page Two)

BIG BOOTLEGGING RING IS SMASHED BY GIGANTIC RAID

Two Hundred Miles Of Eastern Coast Raided At Same Time

BIG SYNDICATE SMASHED BY RAID

Government Agents Make Biggest Haul Since Prohibition Arrived

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—One of the biggest liquor smuggling syndicates operating since the Volstead Law went into effect was broken up today as a result of a spectacular offensive by the Federal Government. Thirty-five raids were carried out simultaneously along a 200-mile "front" extending from Atlantic City to the Eastern tip of Long Island.

Thirty persons were arrested, including Emanuel "Manny" Kessler, who at one time was known as "the king of the bootleggers." It was believed that "Manny," a picturesque and colorful character, had retired after "doing a stretch" in the Atlanta Federal penitentiary five years ago with other infamous American bootleggers.

Fortified Mainland
The liquor "ring," which supplied booze to the entire East, had its headquarters in a mansion on an estate at Highlands, N. J., which had been fortified with ammunition, firearms and machine gun emplacements. It was honeycombed with underground vaults and passages in which huge quantities of wines and liquor were stored.

A fully equipped unlicensed radio broadcasting station operating from this "headquarters" was taken over by the prohibition agents, 130 of whom took part in the raids.

The liquor syndicate operated a fleet of rum ships between the Atlantic coast and St. Pierre Miquelon, off Canada, and also to and from Bermuda. The radio operator at the stronghold of the bootleggers at Highlands was "talking" with one of the ring's big freighters, bringing in 5,000 cases of "good Canadian liquor" at the time the raids were staged.

Seized in his fortress known as "The Mansion" to the people of Highlands, "Manny" Kessler, a squat, active little fellow, was taken into custody.

There used to be in olden days, a movie patron pest, who spoiled the show when he was there, and gave you little rest. He was the lad who read out loud the titles as they came, it seemed to be his favorite sport, a sort of indoor game. Nor would he hush his pesky work, and read them to himself, but he is gone the title hound is laid upon the shelf. But in his place there now appears another set of wrongs, that come from chaps who see a show and sing the lines of songs. The talkies crowded out the chap who read the titles out, and now we have that singing pest, that humming, singing loud, a muzzie would be quite the thing, a gag would stop his play, but how to go about such things, it's fifty-five today.

Proposed Freight Rates Disapproved

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Examiners of the Interstate Commerce Commission recommended today that proposed freight rates on "ex-river bituminous coal," in carloads, from Columbia and Conway, Pa., to Youngstown, O., should be held not to be justified. They recommended that the suspended schedules should be canceled without prejudice to the filing of new schedules.

The proposed rates were for a road haul movement of loaded and empty cars used in transporting "the coal" from the two points to Youngstown, and the incidental switching service in connection therewith, varying from $2.70 per car to 19 cent per ton.

HOPE TO OVERCOME OBSTACLES IN PATH OF LONDON PARLEY

President Hoover hopeful that the same private negotiation in the next three months will see Franco-Italian differences yield to adjustment, and many of the obstacles cleared away that now loom so menacingly in the pathway of the conference.

In the British call for the conference, all of the powers were invited to utilize this three months' period for an exchange of opinions between themselves. All of them took note of it and accepted. Consequently the next three months are going to witness a vast amount of dickering in London, Paris and Rome.

Acute Differences.
One of the first things to be settled is the scope of the conference. On this point, there are some acute differences between the United States and the rest of the powers.

As conceived in Washington and so expressed in the note of American acceptance, the London gathering is simply to be an extension of the original Washington arms conference, the aim of which will be to complete in London what was started at Washington eight years ago, and the results written into treaty form.

The other powers, Great Britain included, seem to have a totally different idea. The British note of invitation set forth that it would be the aim of the London conference "to elaborate a text to facilitate the task of the League of Nations preparatory commission, and of the subsequent general disarmament conference."

It was noted here significantly that both France and Italy took up this phraseology in their acceptances, plainly indicating that they regard the January gathering as a sort of tail to the League of Nations kite.

This divergence of views may or may not be important in the final analysis, but it is a point that is going to require some thrashing out. If France and Italy take the position that the London conference is not to be conclusive, but merely an academic discussion to assist the league, the whole aspect of the undertaking is changed.

Wrong Viewpoint.
Italy's note of acceptance, while cordial and unconditional on its face, nevertheless furnished evidence that there is some rough sledding ahead for the conference.

Indirectly but nevertheless emphatically, Italy served notice that she will insist upon naval parity with France.

France has never yet conceded this point to her Mediterranean rival, and, on the contrary, has steadfastly maintained that a grant Italian parity means French inferiority on the Mediterranean. The French will arrive at this thesis by pointing out that nearly all of Italy's interests border the Mediterranean, thus enabling her to maintain the bulk of the Italian fleet there, whereas French interests are more world-wide, requiring the French fleet to be thinly spread out.

Seek Global Basis.
The French counter Italy's slogan of "parity with France" with another slogan, "parity with Italy on the Mediterranean," which, of course, means French superiority on a world basis.

Moreover, the Franco-Italian position that naval limitation should be carried out on a global basis, leaving each nation free to build the type of ships best suited for its needs, Italy, for example, might want to build nothing but cruisers and submarines.

The British position is opposed to this. Limitation by category, that is, by classes of ships, is the backbone of the British thesis of reduction, to which the United States has subscribed. There will have to be some extensive work done before this point is adjusted.

These are only a few of the many problems that will be discussed between London, Washington, Paris, Rome and Tokyo during the next three months. But they are indicative of what remains to be accomplished before President Hoover and Premier MacDonald realize their dreams.

PARADE PLANS FOR HALLOWE'EN

on Washington street the judges' stand will be located and as the parade counter marches past it, the prize winners will be given orders entitling them to merchandise which will be contributed as prizes. The plan this year will obviate the crush seen in former years when prospective prize winners were herded in one room and the winners selected. This year the judges will look the parade over as it goes up Washington street and will have the prize slips ready for presentation when they come back.

The parade committee will consist of Ivor V. Davis, who will act as marshal, and the following men: Thomas Blake, Orville Potter, J. N. Spied, John Wilson, Robert Armstrong, William G. Fleming, Phil G. Greer, James P. Cole, Robert Gowell, DeGraff Robinson, Edward D. Pritchard, Louis B. Mather, John J. Maher, John D. Kennedy. Out of this committee will come the divisional marshals and aides, a number of aides to be appointed yet.

Prize Committee.
The prize committee consists of Lewis Lewis as chairman, with the following committeemen: Miss Martha Bigley, Frank Summers, Phil G. Greer, George Fox, Emmanuel Shellen, John Higgins, Elmer Tinsman. This committee will gather the prizes and will aid in the distribution of them, collaborating with the judging committee.

The music committee consists of John D. Kennedy, chairman, and the following: L. C. Gleason, B. J. Biondi, A. S. Hofmeister, Thomas Cunningham, Joseph Replogle, Carl Shaner, Miss Eva Coulter and Howard Geary.

The judges committee consists of Chairman W. Stanley Treser and the following: Lewis Lewis, B. N. Hanlon, Major Guy J. Wadinger, Attorney William J. Caldwell, L. J. Genkinger and Dr. H. H. Rosenthal.

Many Bands Anticipated.
To make the celebration the success it should be, it will be necessary to have a number of bands in line. This the music committee hopes to be able to do and if possible have a band at the head of each division of the parade.

There will be no street dance this year. In other years this was found to be a feature that did not prove successful. The crowds will not stand back far enough to allow the dancers to enjoy themselves and the usual result has been a jam.

Chief of Police C. C. Horner will be asked to cooperate in the celebration to the extent of keeping the streets free of automobiles and also having Washington street roped from East street to the public square. In this way it is hoped to have a clear lane for the marchers.

The celebration is being put on through the cooperation of the Better Business bureau and the American Legion. The Legion men are carrying out the details of the arrangements and will be in charge of the celebration and the members of the Better Business bureau will aid in the contribution of merchandise for prizes.

HOOVER AGAIN TAKES HAND IN TARIFF BATTLE

to re-enact the debenture plan as a rider, the president summoned Senator Watson of Indiana, the majority leader, to the white house this morning for conference.

Not long after Watson departed, the president summoned Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, who has been a thorn of no small proportions in the side of the administration forces throughout the tariff fighting.

Borah predicted on leaving the white house that the tariff bill would pass "and in such shape that the president could sign it." He declined, however, to forecast a date, or to state upon what grounds he believed Mr. Hoover could sign the bill.

Capital Buzzing
Borah has persistently opposed the high industrial rates of the present measure, and has voted throughout with the Democratic-Progressive coalition which has generally been opposed to the House bill. He voted to take away the presidential power to raise and lower the tariff by executive action, in the face of Mr. Hoover's request for continuance of such power, and in so doing challenged the President to state whether he opposed or approved the high industrial rates in the bill.

Consequently, the summoning of the Idaho insurgent to the White House today and his subsequent prediction that the bill would pass in such form that the President could sign it aroused no little comment at the capitol.

STAR LORE
IMPRESSIVE AURORA DISPLAY
By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.
Summer twilight around Edmonton, Alberta—53.5 degrees north latitude—linger in the upper atmosphere until around 11:30 p. m. After that the aurora begins to manifest. One particular occasion witnessed by the writer, a dark oval atmospheric bridge lay quiescent along the north, when an impressive glow began to loom; finally shafts of light resembling cathedral spires shot with animation far up into the sky from along the periphery of the arch, and then subsided, only to reproduce themselves again and again with undying splendor. It was a celestial pageant of unrepeatable glory. How are we to account for the aurora display? (More Tomorrow)

COUNTY FEDERATION HONORS MRS. GREER

Fifteen members of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs were in attendance at the 34th annual convention of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women in Erie, Pa. for the sessions Tuesday and Wednesday.

At the Tuesday afternoon session Mrs. Charles Greer, president of the Lawrence County Federation, was signally honored when Miss Florence Diebert, former state president, presented her with a check for $125, in behalf of the Lawrence County Federation. This money is to be used to establish a scholarship at Penn State college to be known as the Grace M. Greer scholarship. This is to be given a senior girl at the college each year, and she will be given a year after her graduation to repay the money without interest.

HISTORIC DAY AT WESTMINSTER

ON THE morrow there will be fulfilled at Westminster College the dream of years of every Westministerite.

The magnificent new administration building, "Old Main Memorial" on the site of the original "Old Main" will be formally dedicated.

Great by far even than those dreams of the loyal students, faculty and alumni in years past, is that imposing structure to be dedicated to the use and service of future Westministerites.

It marks a definite, epochal line in the expansion of the New Wilmington institution.

There will never be anything tangible that can take the place in the hearts of old time Westminister students, faculty and graduates of the "Old Main" that went down under the fire of January, 1927, but out of that catastrophe has arisen an institution that will make the new Westminister capable of service and development impossible a few years ago.

Certain it is that Dr. W. Charles Wallace, the president; the Westminister Board of Trustees; the loyal backers of the school; the students, past and present; and the alumni can share the dedicatory services on Friday with a justifiable pride in a thing that has been well done.

The new Westminister is now in step with modern progress, not only in affairs educational, but in facilities as well. Hail, New Westminister!

BUSINESS REPORTS AND TARIFF

Six hundred delegates, representing the most important manufacturing plants in the United States, have been listening to some very cheerful reports concerning the state of their business. They are in attendance at the annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers in New York City, and the facts and figures had to do with a survey which has been made of nine thousand companies in widely varying industries in all parts of the country. It is true that unemployment exists in some sections, but one-fourth of the companies represented in this survey reported a shortage in skilled labor. Ho "are we to maintain and improve upon this showing? Surely not by antagonizing the business of the country. Certainly not by adopting a hostile attitude toward the manufacturers of the country. And most assuredly not by misrepresenting the tariff bill which is now being considered by congress. At a meeting of women in New York City the other day several of the speakers asserted that the passage of this measure would threaten the peace of the world. At another gathering it was claimed that it would result in an increase in prices to the consumer that would be almost prohibitive.

It is foolish and unfair sniping of this kind that threatens public confidence. We have rarely had a tariff measure that has not brought forth foreign protests. Similarly we have had protests against our immigration policy. But what would become of this country if we lowered protection and abandoned restricted immigration? Intelligent discussion is one thing, but misrepresentation is another. and, if we wish a continuance of the bright reports which have been made to the Manufacturers Association, it would be well to stick close to the tried and tested policies which have helped to give us the degree of prosperity the country is now enjoying.

SCREEN ELOQUENCE

It seemed not long ago that teaching the films to talk promised just another vein of public entertainment, which would be ingeniously worked and developed for the good of all concerned. But it is in an industrial law that no revolution in a single enterprise can be kept a private matter. Reverberations in other quarters are inevitable, largely unforeseen in the flush of enthusiasm for the novelty that causes them. For example the talkies have not benefited theater musicians, organ manufacturers and the stars of the silent drama who are equipped to star in the spoken drama.

The present is frankly a period of experiment with the articulate celluloid, and out of it the talking film will achieve its destiny, exactly as the motion pictures themselves won their place beside the legitimate drama in the business of public entertainment.

A more disturbing consequence of this sudden eloquence of the screen is concerned with language. Hollywood products may cease to be popular the world over when their exhibitors in non-English speaking countries install the talkies. Only lovers of grand opera can enjoy listening to words they cannot translate. The basic behavior of the film is universally comprehensible, but the average Britisher will cherish to the last the right to criticize our conversation and despise our diction.

IN COLLEGE: 850,000

One person in every 40, approximately, of the population of the United States between the ages of 16 and 26 is in a higher institution of learning. This estimate does not take account of those following extension or casual courses.

For the most part these 850,000 young men and women are not engaged in what is called "gainful employment," though they are not by any means unemployed. This fourth man or woman—and three out of eight are women—is taking himself or herself temporarily out of the economic life of the nation, except as a consumer, but with the expectation that the productivity of later years may be so augmented as to make up for this period of preparation. These academic years are the years of "the fallow." But they are not idle years, at least not for all students.

Statistics indicate that the country has passed the peak in college and university enrollment. For 10 years there has been a rapid and steady increase; now the United States seems to be facing a decline in quantity education. Whichever way the pendulum swings there are advantages and disadvantages. Crowded institutions of higher learning mean not higher standards but more undergraduates who get by and that is all they get in college. Only a certain percentage of each generation is born for the duties in life for which higher education trains.

What Is Happiness?
Money And Labor.
Pearl For A Lady.
Birth Control. Yes? No?

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features
Syn., Inc.)

The Rev. E. Everett Wagner, Methodist Episcopal, will start a "happiness clinic," with philosophers engaged to lecture on happiness, how to start, how to reach it. The clinic will pay special attention to marriage, health, work, and human nature.

In starting a "happiness clinic" it is important to remember Voltaire's advice to define the meaning of the words. What IS happiness? Sheridan calls it "an exotic of celestial birth."

Socrates said "Happiness is unrepented pleasure."

Schopenhauer called happiness "absence of pain." A dull definition.

Rousseau's definition, "a good bank account, a good cook and a good digestion," is also rather dull.

Schiller thought he had found "earthly happiness" because he had "lived and loved."

There are two kinds of happiness. The lesser consists in finding the work for which you are fit and doing it.

The greater, reserved for a few, is working for others.

A strike of gasoline truck drivers and big oil companies in New York, the companies refusing to recognize unions, is an important struggle between organized labor and organized money.

Labor has the difficult end of what will be a long fight. One hundred million dollars would make no difference to the companies in this struggle.

If drivers could succeed in cutting off gasoline supplies, tying up automobiles, which is doubtful, they would have public opinion against them. They will find political authorities temporarily very friendly less so after election.

A diver in the Persian Gulf went "all naked to the hungry shark," and, avoiding the shark, came up with a perfect pearl weighing 50 grains, worth $250,000.

The pearl will go to some lady, not very young, probably. Young husbands of young wives cannot afford such pearls.

The lady will wear it occasionally, at first, then keep it in a safe-deposit box most of the time, losing $15,000 a year in interest and wear an imitation pearl that even she won't know from the genuine after a few days.

The faculties of seven New York colleges urge the state to change the penal code, allowing doctors to give information about birth control.

With birth control in practice, the world would have missed Caruso, who was number 19 in his family, probably also Napoleon, and many other valuable individuals.

But that, say the birth control advocates, does not answer the question. "Has a woman, with six children, in weak health, her husband a drunkard, the right to say that she will not bring any more unfortunate children into the world? Prosperous women, able to care for large families, get birth control information. Poor women don't get it."

Madame Curie, who helped the discovery of radium comes here to accept for the new Radium Institute at Warsaw, one gramme of radium costing $50,000, paid for by American women.

You could put in a small vase radium worth more than all the wealth of Rockefeller, Ford, Secretary Mellon and George P. Baker, combined, if such a radium quantity existed.

Our sun, with its source of terrific energy only guessed at by science, may contain millions of tons of radium.

We can't get at that. But we might give more poor children the benefit of the sun's light, which is accessible and costs nothing.

Seattle warmly welcoming the plucky Russians flying from Moscow to the great American city of the northwest sets a good example.

Russia has always been our friend, and we should be friendly with Russians now, congratulate them on getting rid of the worthless, destructive and degenerate Romanoff crowd, and having the courage to set up their own successful government.

Don't forget that a visit to Seattle is a good start for you "seeing America first" trips.

And when you go, if you want to see some of the beautiful country north of our line, and abundant game communicate with Prosser and Manson, two of the best guides and outfitters in British Columbia.

You can get their address from Dr. Alanson Weeks, famous surgeon and instructor at the medical school in San Francisco. What he does not know about American game and guides is unimportant.

Mr. Lamont, "the" Mr. Lamont, says business is good and will continue good. Gerard Swope, president of General Electric says "amen" and means it. Orders received by his company for the three months ending September 30th, were $116,688,014, against $90,328,666 in the same period last year. That increase of 29 per cent has prevailed throughout the entire year.

Whatever Mr. Coolidge whittles, the length of his magazine-article sentences indicates that it isn't anything expensive.

Correct this sentence: "I find," wrote the college boy, "that I can get along very nicely on the allowance you planned to give me."

Those who handle booze get into trouble in many ways even if they do not lick up any of it themselves. The old-fashioned saloonkeepers and bartenders always contended it was made to sell and not to drink.

THIS READS NICELY.

Local Oct. 1929.

Dear Fred:— I am dropping in a line or two to you today and I hope that I don't cause you any annoyance.

I appreciate very much the kind words and support from the citizens of our Castle to continue the H. and D. column.

Fellow Readers: Webster defines a "friend" as "one who entertains for another such sentiments of esteem and respect and affection that he seeks his company and welfare; a well wisher, an intimate associate."

How dreary life would be if we had no friend to sympathize with us in our joys and sorrows, who understand us and have similar points in view. Even when our friends differ from us on some subject it causes no ill-feeling, for there is affection and esteem enough to endure a little strain.

He has respect for the others opinion and tastes and allows perfect freedom of expression of those opinions and tastes.

But we readers must agree on the main the most essential points (of the Hints and Dints).

Now Fred continue your good inspiring word and give us readers daily good successful treatments for our Castle would be gloomy without you.

And now. We admit we are naturally bad, but when a bad woman gets after a man good or bad he sure gets his white here on nothing because most of them have nothing to lose and wouldn't care if they did lose that. Omygosh.

A men's Bible class in Pittsburgh succeeded in calling a United Brethren preacher and started a new church. No one knows what a men's Bible class will do. They may go to Sunday school, but not to church and that is one thing sure they will do.

A wife would find married life desperately tame if she had a husband who was so perfect she couldn't razz him about something.

Come to think of it I don't believe I ever heard of a man suing a wife who was a good cook for divorce.

We must be a fine lot if it's true that the best evade jury service. Very few jurors accept bribes.

A dress suit is something a man likes to own though he doesn't get into it once a year.

An official of the United States Treasury in Washington made the statement that since 1920 50 members of the prohibition enforcement have been killed, while 143 civilians have been killed by the prohibition officers. A senator says over 300 civilians have been killed by the prohibition men. There seems to be a division of opinion on the number of civilians killed for some reason or other.

PROOF OF SOUL'S EXISTENCE. France's distinguished mathematician, Charles Henry, who works year after year in a forest with delicate instruments which measure the millionth part of a centimeter, tells the scientists of the Sorbonne that the human soul—that mysterious thing that is not a thing—can now be measured and that he has measured it. Religion is right, says Henry. We never completely die. There is a certain electrical radiation on "biological vibration" set free by death that goes on and on. It seeks another envelope or body, because by doing so it can establish its equilibrium. Eternal life is no more wonderful than any half dozen established truths of scientists. So why doubt it?

Larger Banking Institutions Viewed As National Problem

Country Seriously Considers Prospect Of Branch Banking Systems As Substitute For Chain Interests Acting Through Holding Companies

Growth of banking institutions in the United States through mergers and proposed mergers has given rise to a situation widely debated by the press. A Treasury official has recommended a change in the law to authorize increased scope for branch banks, and this is balanced against the growing practice of "chain" control by holding companies.

"Chain banking assumes to set aside the old adage that a chain is as strong as its weakest link," remarks the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN. "It assumes that each link acquires the strength of the entire chain. With greater truth it might be said that the strength of the bank combination, improperly styled a 'chain,' depends upon the central ring to which each separate bank is linked to the holding company. And when that is said there is met the challenging fact that the holding company is beyond the law, or at least in a twilight zone where the meticulous regulations of banking operations do not penetrate. Bank mergers are to be preferred to the holding company device of banking. But the wisdom of banking experience and accumulated knowledge ought to be brought to careful consideration of the question whether either is necessary, or even unavoidable."

"Members of the state bank division of the American Bankers' Association adopted a resolution at the San Francisco convention voicing emphatic opposition to Comptroller Pole's suggestion of broader branch banking privileges for national banks," recalls the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS. "Such an extension, the resolution asserts, would give national banks new and advantages over their state bank competitors."

In expressing their opposition state bankers point out that, under individual initiative, the unit system of banking has stood the test, serving well the commercial and industrial interests of the United States. That banks, if properly managed, meet the financial requirements and promote the prosperity of the cities and towns in which they operate. They are owned and officered by men who are interested in the advancement of local affairs. But under branch banking such a situation is impossible. It is a temptation to drain the country branches of surplus funds and so restrict local development. Congress is not likely to grant to national banks any unwarranted advantage over state financial institutions.

Basing its discussion on the merger of the Corn Exchange and National City banks into one of the largest two banks in the world, the NEW YORK SUN discusses the general situation with the comment: "Chain banking consists of the purchase by a holding company of stock in numbers of small banks in different localities. This plainly is something radically different from branch banking where a single bank operates wholly owned branches. Chain banking apparently would substitute an indefinite measure of control by outside interests over what have hitherto been independent organizations whose directors and officials are performing something like trustee functions. It is a development that evidently will bear careful watching."

"There is bound to be increasing discussion of this matter by the public and in Congress," declares the WHEELING INTELLIGENCER. "It is the greatest national question concerning wealth and its custody that has arisen since the breaking up of the United States Bank by President Andrew Jackson." And the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW states: "In the closing hours of the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association, several bankers plucked up courage to speak in opposition to the stampede group and chain banking. George W. Davidson of New York and Colonel Max D. Mann of Boston, Ky., appealed to American bankers to return to principles long regarded in conservative quarters as fundamental, not only to financial welfare, but to social well-being of the nation. They held that the development and prosperity of a given community depends upon local control, locally informed and locally interested banks. That is the fine old idea, prevalent for centuries. But the new mode is sweeping the country, whether for well or evil who can say?"

Believing that "Comptroller Pole's speech should help to clarify the distinction between branch banking and chain banking," the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE points to the restriction placed by the federal laws on branch banking "by institutions that come under federal regulation," particularly as to "branches outside the corporate limits of the city in which the parent bank is located," and continues: "If national banks or state banks in Federal Reserve were to put their strong metropolitan resources at the service of smaller cities or rural communities a way had been found other than branch banking as limited by the federal law. The result has been group banking. In this method a chain of banks, each a separate banking unit, is controlled through stock ownership by the same person or group. As stated by the comptroller of the currency, the problem seems to hold an inherent conflict between branch and group banking. The issue to be settled lies between the advocates and the opponents of branch banking as in general."

"It is more than possible," in the opinion of the PETERSBURG PROGRESS INDEX, "that the greater safety from the standpoint of the depositor, will have a considerable effect in reconciling the public to

Car Damages Property Near Mount Jackson

Drunken Driver Crashes Mail Boxes And Fence At Mc- Ginnis Property

Considerable damage occurred at the McGinnis property, Mount Jackson highway last night when a Chrysler runabout was piloted into a mail box, telephone pole and fence. The car contained young men who it is said had been drinking. A state highway patrolman summoned to the scene tried to locate the car but failed.

The accident occurred at the McGinnis property. The mail box was demolished and after the car hit the pole ran through a new fence. Persons who came along the road recognized some of the men in the automobile.

The number was taken down and the highway patrol will make a check of the owner and discover the operator.

No Harm in Pure Cascara

Whenever a coated tongue, bad breath, disordered stomach or general "run-down" feeling tell you Nature needs a little help in promoting normal elimination you can take a Cascaret without any fear of unpleasant after effects. Cascarets are a pure vegetable product, made from Cascara Sagrada, a substance which unquestionable authorities say actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

That's why you can take these pleasant-tasting tablets as often as you please—and give them freely to children or old folks. They are not habit-forming, like so many laxatives; they make it unnecessary to use violent purgatives that upset the system and soon call for more.

Cascarets are sweetened with pure cane sugar and flavored with licorice; you simply eat them like candy. Then sleep right on while they are preparing your intestinal tract for a thorough cleansing in the morning. Cascarets never cause discomfort or that nauseous feeling usually associated with laxatives.

The next time you have that bilious, headachy, dejected feeling that comes from a disordered stomach—or for any reason you suspect liver and bowels are not functioning just right—take a candy Cascaret.

Seeks Action On Sewer Project

Reeves Wants Sewer Laid Under Tracks Of Har- mony Co.

One of the first moves upon his return from a vacation was taken by Councilman Clayton Reeves today when he ordered Solicitor R. M. White to get in immediate touch with officials of the Harmony Route relative to a storm sewer at Cascade street and Stanton avenue.

According to Reeves the city has been desirous of having a sewer laid beneath the company's tracks for months and nothing has been done toward that end by the Harmony.

When asked today what had been accomplished Solicitor White said Superintendent Etheridge had promised to be here this week and that perhaps the matter would be settled.

According to Reeves the question has been hanging long enough and there is water along the roadbed. He is afraid the company may later claim damages to their roadbed.

Shepherd Dog Adopts Henry Home Children

Mope, the three-year-old shepherd dog belonging to Frank L. Plush of Maryland avenue, is a great lover of children. In fact, the dog just can't be happy unless it is surrounded by children, and so it has taken up permanent residence at the Margaret Henry Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Plush bought the dog East, about a year ago. Last May the dog disappeared.

Day before yesterday Mope was found by Mr. Plush. Today he is gone again. Back to the orphanage, it is supposed. Mope has gone back to his many and tedious duties of caring for the children.

Aged Woman Found Needing Attention

County commissioners have brought Mrs. Essie English, widow of Alexander English, to the county home, pending an application for a guardian to be presented by Attorney W. W. Stevenson. Acting upon reports an investigation was made which disclosed that Mrs. English, who is well advanced in years, was living alone on a small farm which she owns in Slippery Rock township. It was evident that she was too feeble to take care of herself. Mrs. English has several children who have tried to get her to go to live with them, but she has steadily refused. As she has means of her own it is expected that arrangements for taking care of her will be made as soon as a guardian can be appointed.

Hub Hart Has Odd Experience

Hub Hart, manager of the municipal golf course, had a rather unusual experience Wednesday. He was trying out new sights on a 22-calibre rifle at the course. He was walking through the orchard at the course and along the fairway of the No. 10 hole when he espied two walnuts hanging close together in a walnut tree along the fairway and decided to try out the sights by shooting at them. Hub is some shot and the walnuts came down, but the unusual feature was the fact that a golf ball came with them, having apparently been lodged in the foliage and branches, where the walnuts had been located.

House Takes Fire From Stuffed Grate

Firemen were called to the home of Samuel Ropke of North Liberty street Wednesday morning by an alarm from box 714, when an over-stuffed grate set fire to the room.

The alarm was called in by telephone and it was understood that the blaze was on South Liberty street extension, so box 714 was sounded instead of box 74. However, the seventh ward firemen had received the proper address and Chief Lynn met them at Swansea and North Liberty. When they arrived on the scene they found that Mrs. Ropke and a passer-by had extinguished the blaze by dashing water on it out of a bucket. The loss was approximately $40.

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Never again need scientific research grope in darkened cellars behind doors bolted against torture. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has swept before it the ignorant barrier which stupidly impeded men of genius and science marches proudly on.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

You're out-of-date without an Eight!

Informed motorists say, "Buy an EIGHT"

The informed demand today is unmistakably for the Eight. The swing of public preference is developing with unprecedented rapidity. Nobody can predict what chance a Six will have in next year's used car markets.

Consider the facts: During the first seven months of this year, in 43 states,* registrations of new cars over $1000 showed a 94 per cent increase in Eights—and an 18 per cent decrease in Sixes. Every high-priced American car is an Eight. The finest models of such foreign aristocrats as Bugatti, Bianchi, DeDion-Bouton, Isotta-Fraschini, Mercedes-Benz and Renault are Eights. Today over 41 per cent of all American makes of cars are Eights.

And Studebaker, enjoying its seventy-seventh successful year in business, sells more Eights than any other manufacturer in the world.

So why pay as much or more for a Six when you can have a champion Eight by Studebaker—holder of 11 world records and more American stock car records for speed and endurance than all other makes combined? A Studebaker Eight, brilliant with the power, the smoothness, the flexibility that only an Eight can deliver. An Eight as economical as the thriftiest Six. And styled with a notable smartness all the way through.

Remember what happened to the Fours in the medium and high priced fields. Sixes today are succumbing to Eights the same way. Now that it costs no more to own and drive one—get an Eight—a champion Studebaker Eight!

SCAPEGOAT OF THE FAMILY

Peter didn't want to hurt Sir Butterfly's feeling. So when the gay flier asked whether he had met Cousin Moth, the boy hesitated. Then he decided to tell the truth and take the consequences.

"I think I have. If I am not mistaken he is the chap who ate a hole in my best winter overcoat. I remember how angry Mother was about that."

"Indeed, the cousin of whom I am speaking never did anything of the kind. He eats honey and dew like the rest of us," declared Sir Butterfly. "But I know whom you mean. Silver Moth is the scapegoat of the family. None of us outdoor creatures has much to do with him. He is always disgracing us. He lives indoors most of the time, doesn't he?"

"All I know about him is that he had a home in our closet," replied the boy. "There Mother hung all our best clothes, and of course we didn't know he was there until one day he flew one day and Mother discovered my coat all covered with little holes. But what large eyes you have, Sir Butterfly. You have one on each side of your head, haven't you?"

"Guess again," said Butterfly. "I have four. Don't you see the two tiny ones at the back of my head? If you look closely you can discover them hidden under long hairs."

"Why, yes, I do see them now. And I have been longing to ask you all afternoon what you do with your tongue when you are not using it. It looks to me as if you rolled it up

"OF COURSE WE DIDN'T KNOW HE WAS THERE."

like a watch spring," remarked the boy.

"Right this time," said Butterfly. "But it isn't a tongue, it's a trunk, and as you can notice, it is made of two little pieces with little points upon them," (and he stuck it out for Peter to see). "I can suck the honey up between these ridges, and when I have taken all I wish I curl up my trunk and keep it safe under these two hairy lips on the front of my head."

"You learn something every day," remarked Peter, half to himself and half to his friend. "I never knew of anything that had a trunk but an elephant. But there is some difference in the size of the two. Say, Butterfly, did you ever see an elephant?"

"Elephant?" repeated Butterfly, puzzled. "No I can't say that I have. Does he fly in this part of the country?"

The idea of any elephant flying through the air was too much for Peter and the boy laughed long and loudly.

STOMACH TROUBLE?

"DIASTATIC DEFICIENCY" (failure to digest starches), causes more than one-half the cases of stomach trouble. Because of this deficiency, potatoes, breads, macaroni, rice, breakfast cereals and other starchy foods remain in a semi-solid condition and refuse to move on as they should. This stoppage causes INDIGESTION, GAS, FERMENTATION, SOURNESS, SICK HEADACHE and other common troubles.

"TOO MUCH ACID" is the cause of almost all the remaining half of our stomach troubles. It also is the result of fermentation and excess digestive acids. ACIDINE, the new discovery, is a perfect anti-acid combined with "Jap-tase," the most effective known starch digestant, one pound of which will digest more than 500 pounds of starchy foods.

ACIDINE is the FIRST COMPLETE REMEDY for STOMACH TROUBLE—ANT-ACID, STARCH DIGESTANT, MEAT DIGESTANT.

Jealousy Causes Tragic Shooting In Apollo Home

Man Kills Woman And Then Turns Gun Upon Himself As Result Of Jealous Fit

MURDER-SUICIDE VERDICT RETURNED

(International News Service)
VANDERGRIFT, Pa., Oct. 17.—Believed to have been crazed by jealousy, Frank Jones, 42, of Apollo, near here, shot and killed Mrs. W. C. Crooks, 25, and then turned the gun upon himself. It became known today. The shooting occurred last night after Mrs. Crooks and Jones had quarreled over the whereabouts of her mother, Mrs. Charles Free, with whom Jones was said to have been infatuated.

According to the husband of the dead woman, Mrs. Free left her home for Pittsburgh last night and sometime later Mrs. Crooks inquired of Mrs. Crooks where her mother had gone. An argument followed and while Mrs. Crooks was using the telephone at the home of her mother, Jones shot her through the head and then turned the gun upon himself, dying instantly. Crooks and his two children were in the next room when the shooting occurred.

A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of murder and suicide. The Crooks family and Jones lived at the home of Mrs. Free who said that for some time Jones had been asking her to marry him, but that she had refused his attentions.

Ghost Makes Wrong Noise, So Is Shot

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17.—A first-class working knowledge of the habits of ghosts sometimes comes in handy. "I didn't think he would shoot a ghost," complained Salvador. "Correcto," agreed the watchman emphatically. "But always the ghosts in Dolores go 'swish-swish; never 'woof-woof.' Therefore I shoot."

Park Avenue Turned Into Cow Path As Ohio Woman Milks "Bossie"

Mrs. Irving Bastian Milks Cow in Park Avenue

A $15,000 cow standing in the middle of Park Avenue at Thirty-sixth Street, was milked by an Ohio farmer's wife.

Neither the cow nor the farmer's wife, Mrs. Irving Bastian, of Clyde, Ohio, seemed to think the affair was any great shakes. But to the several hundred New Yorkers gathered around, who had an idea milk came in cans, it was an interesting exhibition of the ways of nature.

The cow's name is Successor Sultane. The blue blood of the Isle of Jersey courses in her veins. She arrived in the metropolis from Mt. Kisco by truck.

She wore around her neck what is believed to be the oldest cowbell in Ohio, brought to New York especially by Mrs. Bastian for the Fall dinner of the Ohio Society at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

Once or twice, as Successor turned her placid eyes toward the gaping throng, she emitted a mild and pleasant moo. When no one returned her greeting, she bent her head and tried out the stubby grass of the Park Avenue mall.

She even consented once to moo for the talking newsreel boys.

Mrs. Bastian did not wear what is popularly supposed to be the correct milking costume. She had on a blue ensemble. All she did was remove her coat and gloves, sit on an overturned pail and start to work.

Hitching Posts Must Remain In Marion, Ind.

MARION, Ind., Oct. 17.—There is one group of hitching posts which continue to defy the edicts of changing conditions, and recently were given a new coat of paint to preserve them against the encroachments of time.

A loyal citizen of a past generation, Martin Boots, deeded land to the county for a courthouse, but with certain restrictions, one of which was that the ornamental hitching posts must be properly maintained.

As there was no provision for modification of the terms of the grant as times might change, a sufficient number of the posts will be kept in their old positions—odd reminders of the age-old horse-drawn vehicles—to live up to the letter of the contract.

Two Are Injured In Auto Crash

Take Victims Of Seventh Ward Accident To Hospital

Frank Kresuk of 1712 Moravia street and Wasil Baronski of the Bessemer road are in the New Castle hospital suffering from apparently slight injuries sustained shortly before 9:25 o'clock Wednesday night when their machine crashed into the car of R. E. O'Donnell of 708 North Ashland avenue, at Miller road on North Liberty street. The Kresuk machine, in which the men were riding, turned over on its side, pinning both men in the car. The occupants of the other car were uninjured.

When they were removed from the car, Baronski was found to have sustained cuts on the face, which were bleeding profusely, while Kresuk sustained minor bruises and cuts on the face.

They were removed to the New Castle hospital, where the attending physician thought it wise to retain them there for observation and X-ray pictures to determine the possibility of other and more serious injuries.

The O'Donnell car was being driven by James O'Donnell, a son of the owner, and he was accompanied by his sisters, Mrs. Sarah Boyle and Betty Jane O'Donnell.

They came down Miller road from their home on Ashland avenue and on reaching North Liberty street came to a dead stop to determine the condition of traffic before attempting to go south toward Mahoningtown.

While their machine was motionless, the Kresuk car came along at a high rate of speed and crashed into their car, throwing it up to one side of the intersection of Miller road and North Liberty street, while the Kresuk car kept on about 20 feet and turned over on its side.

The O'Donnell car was damaged to some extent, while the Kresuk car was badly damaged. Baronski was injured apparently when his head struck the windshield of the Kresuk car, breaking it.

Officers Lockard and Dukes were on the call and their report was of such a nature that the police directed the hospital authorities to notify the police when the injured men were able to leave, so that the investigation might be carried on to the fullest extent.

GEORGE A. SIMMONS

I hear the winds come sighing across the sea,
When outside, the shadows softly creep.

Old faces stir again in memory,
I face the wall and try hard not to weep.

Pale ghosts from Verdun whisper to me there,
With a promise of a new and better land.

A ghostly buddy gently strokes my hair
With soothing, ever friendly, spectre hand.

The wind brings ever on its sighing wings
Memories of friends of long ago,
Lost in the hellish chaos of things
In the muddy trenches of Bois Bonvaux.

White faces peer at me from out the dark,
My buddies with their shattered arms entwined.

Some of them yet laying pale and stark,
Oh wind, oh wind, please leave these scenes behind.

The wind comes sighing from the hill,
Bringing the scent of waving golden grain.

The bloom of poppies from where the guns are still
Where buddies sleep and wait for their mates again.

It is different now—no slogging through rain and mud,
It is different now—by the Meuse and Aisne.

They are gone—those trenches red with blood,
Covered by fields of waving harvest grain.

Today as we think of the eastward track,
And fight old fights in that ancient stress,

Old songs, old pals and old days come back
From the Argonne drifts to the S. O. S.

But memories come drifting from out the sky,
My buddies lying shattered, sick with pain.

Some of them yet smiling as they cry
"Lest you forget" or "have we died in vain?"

Yes, it's different now by valley and hill,
The guns are staid by a ten year rust.

Our buddies sleep where the guns are still;
Free from the pain of the bayonet's thrust.

No midnight patrol now holds its beat
Where the crosses guard over the ghosts of men.

In no-man's land, where the grey ghost meet
And talk and wait for their mates again.

Otto Falls of Summit street, who had his arm badly injured last week while at work, is improving.

Three Hundred Bee Raisers In County; Work Is Discussed

Louis H. Hawthorne, of the Old Pittsburgh road, a director in the Agricultural extension association and a general authority on bee raising, in an interview with the writer, recently, told of some very interesting features in regard to the life habits of these insects.

According to Mr. Hawthorne, there are about 300 bee raisers in this county, none of whom, however, is engaged extensively in this field.

Mr. Hawthorne has been interested in bees for a great many years. He keeps, at the present time, twenty-five hives. It requires considerable knowledge and experience to raise bees successfully. Aside from the commercial side, Mr. Hawthorne has made a thorough study of bees and has found some remarkable facts concerning them.

The writer was told of several different kinds of bees, some of which differ greatly in their temperaments. German bees are a various variety, whereas Italian bees, are quite gentle.

"All bees, however, become cross as fall approaches," says Mr. Hawthorne. "This is explained by their instinctive knowledge that all of their honey will be needed for their sustenance throughout the winter. Fifteen pounds of honey, at least, must be left in each hive, to feed the bee colony during the dormant stage. This will last them, if the weather is very mild, from the first of December to the first of April. Forty pounds of honey should be left in the hive."

At this time of the year, the queen bee does not lay many eggs. She only lays one or two hundred eggs a day, whereas, the usual amount is 3,000 eggs.

This month, there are few drones left in the hive. These male bees have been gradually killed off by the workers, since June and July.

Mr. Hawthorne states that bee raising is a proposition that cannot easily be learned from books, but many of the most important things can only be learned by observing their habits from day to day. Mr. Hawthorne maintains hives of the insects which are not of much value for honey but a species easily used for demonstration purposes.

At the New Castle Fair, Mr. Hawthorne was in charge of the bee exhibition. He was helped by a girls and boys bee club of the East Brook school, and by the Lawrence County Bee Association. Mr. Hawthorne is the instructor of the bee clubs.

He is very interested in teaching children and showing them the numerous bee secrets. He finds that some youngsters seem naturally inclined toward the work.

"But some children never could become bee raisers. Girls seem to be a little more inclined to study bees patiently," he remarked.

The writer was told of the syringe working sting of the bee. Mr. Hawthorne casually picked up one of the insects and made the unwilling bee sting his finger. The sting came out, along with a poison bag. Mr. Hawthorne scraped the sting from his finger, sideways. In this way, the poison was kept from shooting right into the wound.

It was interesting to note that the sting kept moving, back and forth, gradually pumping poison from the bag, through the sting, to the palm of the experimenter's hand.

"Bees are unwilling to sting," Mr. Hawthorne concluded. "They know that it means death, for them."

Bo-Broadway
by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Norman Thomas, the Socialist mayoralty candidate, is gifted with a sense of humor which, if not so flamboyant as that of Messrs. Walker and La Guardia, is nevertheless rich and droll.

"If by some miracle you should be elected mayor," a friend recently asked him, "do you think you could preserve your sense of humor?"

"If one miracle should happen, I think the other could," replied Mr. Thomas.

ISN'T THAT THE WAY?
Old Laurence Stallings, co-author of "What Price Glory," was a copy-reader on the New York World when Fortune arched her brows at him and they went arm in arm from Park Row to Broadway and Hollywood.

Back in the days when he was mulling over the plot and structure of his famous play he invited one of the feature writers on the sheet to collaborate.

"I'm sorry, old man," replied the self-sufficient scribe, who, to tell the truth, wasn't particularly flattered by an offer at collaboration from a mere copy-reader—"I'm sorry, but I think it would be a waste of time. Anyway, I'm working on a play of my own just now. Why don't you get someone else?"

Stallings got another collaborator and cleaned up half a million on the show, and today is growing tobacco down North Calista way while the self-satisfied scribe who turned down the offer to go fifty-fifty on a million dollar split is still hammering the elsesmith at the Boss' behest.

A HUMOR CONTEST
Members of the women's Press Club, seasoned crusaders for women's rights, are mobilized on the field of humor to do battle for sex equality. A humor contest, open to all women not members of the Press Club, will be the first step in the campaign to convince incredulous men and over-moderate women that woman's wit is equal, and possibly superior, to that of the opposite sex.

Humor, what crimes are committed in thy name!

HATS OFF TO FRITZI SCHEFF
Fritzi Scheff was dragged out of her seclusion the other night and reappeared after a lapse of 20 years in Victor Herbert's Mlle. Modiste. And a sophisticated first-night audience got up on its hind legs and cheered till the rafters rang. When it came to the "Kiss Me Again" refrain there was no restraining them. Fritzi began it and the gang finished it. Her, much the same as they used to do in the days of screen songs, in vaudeville. Then they clapped and stamped and cheered and it all had to be done over again.

That's the beauty of New York. It's large enough and sufficient non-chalant and rich and bright and glamorous to have the courage to do what it jolly well pleases—and the devil take anyone who thinks differently.

AN OLD-TIME "RACKET"
In connection with the Shearer revelations, Marlen Pew of Editor and Publisher, talking of the Propagandist and his pleasing ways, tells of a tall, gaunt, keen-eyed chap, once city editor of a Chicago newspaper, who talked in nothing short of million dollar stunts and yet was always one leap ahead of the sheriff in personal accounts.

"One of his tricks," says Pew, "was to walk into the headquarters of a certain press association and announce that he was a newspaper man somewhat down on his luck but had just chanced to have an important street conversation with one of the greatest captains of American industry. The celebrity who had made a policy of refusing interviews had made some very readable remarks in regard to a pending industrial situation. Oh, yes, he'd stand for the quotes." To the skeptical press association manager the old racketeer said: "I'll write it and you ask him to confirm it. If it gets his O. K. I want $250." They finally compromised on a hundred. Forty-One New Applications For Membership Filed At Meeting Last Night

FURTHER PLANS FOR PUBLIC INITIATION

Reports of the membership committee of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, submitted at the meeting of the post last evening, show that 41 new members have been added to the rolls since the previous meeting two weeks ago.

It is confidently expected that more than 100 veterans will make up the class which will receive their initiation at the public ceremony to be carried out in the Carnegie auditorium on next Wednesday evening, Oct. 23rd, when ranking national and state officers will be present.

Plans for the coming meeting were furthered last evening, assurances being received that the national officers previously mentioned would be present on the occasion.

A fine program of entertainment has been arranged for Wednesday evening, Oct. 23rd, which will be largely attended by business, professional and industrial leaders of the city.

Plans were made at last night's meeting to stage an intensive membership campaign during the coming week prior to the initiation ceremonies planned. It is hoped to add at least 50 more new members to the organization before the big public meeting here.

James A. Bell is chairman of the membership committee, and under his direction the campaign has progressed very successfully. More members have been added during the past few months than at any previous time in the history of the post.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

The motor took the romance out of the gypsying business. Those old time caravans of covered wagons drawn by indifferent horses have passed and today the gypsy travels the country in eight cylindered cars. No more the quaint songs as they walk behind their wagons. No more do dusky queens peek out from the recesses of the conestoga wagon. Their songs today if they sing them as they travel are drowned out by the screeching of brake bands or the squawk of the siren.

A caravan of them went through New Castle last night, about ten car loads each of them loaded to the top with duffle and passengers, and each car one that had cost anywhere from $1,800 to $3,000. Where they get the money to buy them is a puzzle and where they make their daily living is a second edition of the puzzle. But they get cars and they seem to eat regularly and as far as I know they pay cash for their gasoline. How do they do it?

Few gypsy caravans stop long in Pennsylvania now. The last session of the legislature made it tough for them to stop along the road and camp and as a result they go through this state in a hurry. All of which makes nobody sore. Romantic looking—perhaps, mysterious—a little, but the average farmer would trade a good bit of romance and mystery to keep his chickens or his sheep.

Last night's caravan was from New York state and was headed for Ohio. In all there were ten cars, breezing through at 11 o'clock as though they were going some place and didn't want to waste time.

What is exercise? This question has been asked by a gentleman from the North Hill who doesn't play golf. He has a neighbor who does, assiduously and he plays it for exercise according to the non-golfer. But, according to this gentleman the golfer is too tired to cut his own lawn and the good friend wife has to do it.

The answer is you play golf to keep fit. To keep fit for what? To play more golf.

Down on the South Side the boys are planning for another Halloween celebration to be held on October 30. Last year they held such a celebration and the crowd was so thick that the buildings nearly got pushed back. The same committee will probably handle it this year.

The celebration up town will be held on October 31 which gives the mummies a chance for a double parade.

One sport that has never seemed to go very big around here is soccer. Perhaps the high school football team overshadows any other autumn sport but yet every year the soccer players get together and organize and play a number of games.

It's a good game when you understand it. No rough stuff such as scrimmage or flying tackles, but plenty of action with the feet. Lewis Lewis has his team organized again this year and some afternoon when you feel the urge of some outdoor sport take a look at the soccerites.

It always occurs to me that some of the modern dancers would make splendid soccer players. By using a breakdown step or the vassity drag a fellow could fool the opposition and get a lot of distance with the ball.

Roamed over to the Shenango pottery yesterday afternoon and got an eyeful of real building. The new building is under roof after a record breaking piece of construction work and before the middle of November they will be putting out ware from the new kilns.

YOUNG MEN HEAR LOCAL MINISTER

Phalanx Fraternity Addressed By Rev. Bennett, First Christian Pastor

Rev. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church of this city, spoke Wednesday evening at the regular weekly meeting of the New Castle Phalanx Fraternity, held in the club room of the Y. M. C. A. His subject was "The Pjji Islands."

Several years ago, as Rev. Bennett declared, he made a trip to this group of islands located in the mid-Pacific. His address last night was a recitation of the experiences which he had there. A most instructive part of the talk was that in which he contrasted modern life in the lonely isles with that before the advent of Christianity.

Following the minister's interesting talk, a regular business meeting ensued. There were 22 members present with three visitors. Delegates to the pre-conference session of representatives of Phalanx organizations, which will be held at the local Y. M. C. A. next Sunday afternoon, were chosen and President Alfred Owens and Lyle McGrath will represent the fraternity. The organization is planning a reception for the delegates from other cities.

The Phalanx also made final plans for the Halloween masquerade party which will occur on Wednesday evening, October 30. Preliminary plans for the presentation of a play in cooperation with the Little Theatre guild were formulated.

PLANNING FOR TEST CASE ON LIQUOR PURCHASE ISSUE

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Attorney General Mitchell probably will not make any formal ruling as to whether the purchasers of bootleg liquor are equally guilty with the seller, as he has been requested to do by Senator Morris Sheppard (D) of Texas, the so-called "father of prohibition."

Mitchell indicated today that such a ruling by the department of justice would be without weight, and would have to go to the supreme court in any event.

There is now no case pending upon which a test can be made.

The legal experts of the department, however, are making a study of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act preparatory to the institution of a test case as soon as one is available.

Baptists Unable To Agree On Site For Convention

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 17.—The twenty second annual meeting of the Pennsylvania General Convention had come to a close today without naming a place for next year's meeting.

Delegates to the closing sessions last night found themselves unable to agree on a 1930 meeting place and its ultimate selection was left to the judgment of the executive committee.

Outstanding resolutions adopted by the convention voiced opposition to the use of radio, magazines and billboards to advertise tobacco, condemn the purchasers of liquor as being equally culpable with the bootlegger, and urged all Baptist churches of the state to emphasize evangelism as a "fundamental principle."

Italian Aviators Are After Record

(International News Service)
ROME, Oct. 17.—Commander Maddalena and Lieut. Cecconi, famous Italian fliers, today took off in a Savoia-Marchetti plane in an attempt to establish a new world's record for a non-stop, non-refueling flight.

The present record of 65 hours and 25 minutes is held by the German aviators, Ristler and Zimmerman.

In today's flight Maddalena is preparing for a projected trans-Atlantic flight to New York in the middle of November, it was said.

Four other planes are also being groomed here for trans-Atlantic flights as General Italo Balbo, minister of aeronautics, is anxious to keep his promise to Lewis Yancey and Roger Q. Williams to return the air visit of the Americans.

Corporation Income Tax Returns Will Be Scanned By Senators

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Despite argument that business secrets would be divulged, the Senate finance committee today ordered copies of audited federal income tax returns of more than 400 of the country's biggest corporations distributed to senators for use in the tariff fight.

Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, chairman of the finance committee, said that some of the senators "seemed to want to make them public."

Boldest Robber Is Given Long Term

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 17.—Confessing his part in one of the boldest robberies perpetrated here in years, Mike Lewis was today sentenced to serve from 10 to 25 years in the Ohio penitentiary.

With two companions as yet unapprehended, Lewis held up drivers of the Wehle Baking Company early one morning, then bound and gagged them.

They forced one of the men to call H. W. Whitaker, superintendent, to the plant and then robbed the safe of about $1,000.

Twenty Boys Are Arrested

Summoned Before Mayor Because Of Halloween Depredations

Twenty boys and young men of the city are scheduled to visit his honor, Mayor William H. Gillespie, on Saturday morning and explain, if they can, why they have been persistently destroying people's property, in having what they seem to consider a good time and in keeping with the Halloween season.

Chief of Police C. C. Horner stated this morning that this Halloween destruction and nuisance must cease.

"I believe that the parents are as much to blame as the boys," stated the chief this morning. "It is up to them to know where their boys are and what they are doing."

"It will be our intention in the future to bring in the boys," continued the chief, "and then call in the parents and require them to pay for the damage done. We are through giving the boys an opportunity. They do not seem to appreciate the fact that they have been treated with great courtesy in the past, and now they and their parents will be held responsible for damage done in these Halloween cases."

Cyclist Charged With Manslaughter

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 17.—A charge of manslaughter was made here today against Joseph M. Sebes, operator of a motorcycle which struck and fatally injured John L. Kirk, 69, last Sunday night. Piles Disappear

No Cutting Or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish piles. Nor does cutting remove the cause. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonard, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 10,000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere, under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at McKee's Kute Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

THE SELF-ACTION GAS-FIRED HEATING UNIT

It makes no difference what type of heating plant you now have—hot air, hot water or steam—we can make it completely modern in a few hours by installing the gas-fired heating unit.

No radical changes are necessary. All we do is replace the grate bars of your plant with this unit and then, with the same heating system, you enjoy the luxurious comfort and satisfaction of gas heat.

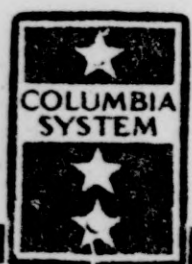

The unit is thermostatically controlled. A mere regulation of the upstairs indicator gives you any desired temperature at all times—a delightfully comfortable, clean and healthful heat.

With the installation of this machine all of your usual heating troubles vanish. It spells end to stoking, cleaning and scrubbing, and ashes, dust and grime of the old methods.

MacDonald Pictures Horrors Of Next War

(International News Service)
TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 17.—A new and horrible conception of future warfare was visualized Wednesday by Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain in an address before the convention gathering of the American Federation of Labor.

"In days gone by the fighting took place on the front lines, the premier said. 'In the next war, should there be a next war, death will be dealt out, not only on the battlefield, but destruction will rise from the bottom of the sea. Destruction will meet your wives, your children.

"The civilian population left miles and miles away back of the front—destruction will meet those silently and they will be touched by the mysterious breath of poison and, in a mysterious way, they will drop down in the middle of your streets and die." Speaking as an ambassador of peace, MacDonald appealed for the support of the labor movement in the United States and Canada to broaden the area of peace." President Green of the American Federation of Labor welcomed the British premier.

Says Mercer County Jury Commissioner Served Illegally

Injunction Asked To Restrain Commissioners From Putting Name On Ballot

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Oct. 17.—Clouse Emery, of Greenville, one of six candidates for the office of jury commissioner in Mercer County, who was defeated for the nomination at the recent primaries, has filed injunction proceedings, seeking to restrain the Mercer County Commissioners from placing the name of Jerry Welk, successful candidate on the ballot for the coming general election.

According to the bill of complaint, Emery claims that under the Act of 1867, which has never been repealed or amended, no person can serve a successive term for jury commissioner or be elected to this office a second time within a period of six years.

It is further contended that Jerry Welk, patriarch of jury commissioners in Pennsylvania, who is 86 years of age, and who has served successively for a period of 19 years, has illegally served the office for many years.

Mercer Attorney state that there is no doubt of the validity of the law, but that no person has disputed it, heretofore. It is believed that the court will be forced to order Welk's name stricken from the ballot. A sticker campaign will undoubtedly be employed to name Welk's successor.

Greenwood Cemetery Endowment Grows

Has Passed Twenty Thousand Mark And Is Increasing Steadily

At the recent meeting of the directors of Greenwood cemetery statement of the condition of the endowment fund handled by the Union Savings Company was made and showed that the total in the fund at that time was $20,300. This is a growth of several hundred dollars since the last report.

There are a number of people who are planning to endow their lots in the cemetery in the next few months, and it is probable that when the next interest period arrives the fund will be considerably over $21,000, due not only to new gifts of money to the fund for endowment purposes, but also to the additional interest which will be received later this year.

Ever since the starting of the fund the cemetery directors have found it convenient to place the interest back into the fund, causing it to grow more rapidly.

The association has also approved certain regulations concerning the endowment of the lots of the cemetery. The amount for which the lots will be permanently endowed has been definitely determined and provides that when the respective amounts have been paid into the fund the cemetery agrees to take care of everything perpetually.

Senator Bingham Defends Action Hiring Eyanson

Connecticut Senator Admits
Before Senate Committee That He May Have
"Errored"

TOOK EYANSON
INTO CONFERENCE

Never Regarded Manufacturers Association As Legislating Organization

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Admitting he may have made an "error", Senator Hiram Bingham (R) of Connecticut, today defended his employment of Charles L. Eyanson, Connecticut manufacturers lobbyist before the Senate's lobby investigating committee.

Bingham told of taking Eyanson into secret session of the Senate finance committee. He admitted Eyanson was drawing salary from the Connecticut Manufacturers Association all during this session and at the same time drew salary from the government. The senator said this salary, though, was turned over to another clerk.

Disapproves Practice
Under severe questioning by committee members Bingham said he disapproved such a practice, but explained his own action by saying he wanted "Eyanson under the Senate's discipline".

Bingham first denied the Connecticut Manufacturers Association was a lobbying organization. Eyanson was a "tariff expert" for this association.
"I never regarded the Connecticut association as a lobbying organization," said Bingham. "Their activities have been chiefly with problems affecting manufacturers such as transportation and freight rates. The only time I ever knew them to be active in legislation was when they came here on the present tariff bill, while it was pending in the House."

The Connecticut senator declared his state believed firmly in tariff protection, said candidates in both major parties being pledged to high protection.

The little king of Roumania was taken out of public school because boys hit back when he socked them.
Yet the knowledge that mortals react that way might save his throne some day.

the table at a dinner for Senators,
he should tell us whether it was placed there by waiters or slid out of the chairs.

Market Displays Recovery Today

Prices Snap Back As Bulls Gain Control Of Turbulent Market

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—In sections of the Stock Market where the Bears had over-extended themselves, and where the supply of stock was none too plenty, prices snapped back easily today, recovering from 2 to 6 points of yesterday's losses. The oil stocks and a few of the rails and specialties were strong enough to carry their new advances a point or two higher,
but the market as a whole was a tame and colorless affair, with the speculative winds blowing hot and blowing cold according to the whims of professionals.

The Bears, in an effort to continue yesterday's break in the high-priced favorites, sowed the market deep with selling orders for U. S. Steel, American Foreign Power, Columbia Gas etc., as the session started. U. S.
Steel dropped off 3 points to 210 1/2 and new gaps were opened up in other high-priced issues. Before the end of the third hour, U. S. Steel had recovered to 217 and Foreign Power sold at 146, up 7 points from the opening price.

Standard Oil of New Jersey led another aggressive upward move in oil and reached a new high for the move above 82. Royal Dutch, Houston, Pan American, Sinclair, Phillips Petroleum, Atlantic Refining, Barns-dall and other oil shares sold up up a point on the average.

Though the steel, copper and lead shares were comparatively quiet today, there was a good demand for Bethlehem Steel, Crucible, Ludlum, Kennecott Copper, St. Joe Lead, International Nickel and the balance of the metal group. No serious decline in the steel industry is looked for in Wall street despite the current slacking of the automobile industry which is expected to be temporary.

Voting Machine Is Installed At Mercer

Citizens Of County Given Opportunity To Study Machines Before Voting

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 17.—A full size voting machine of the type installed in New York City is on exhibition now at the office of the Mercer county commissioners.

The purpose is to educate the voters in its use. November 5 the towns of Sharon, Farrell, Greenville and Grove City all cast their ballots on the installation of this machine, whether the present system of balloting will be retained or the machines installed.
The size mentioned will cost $1,000 installed. This price also takes care of the instruction of the voters by experts and other necessary missionary work to get it going.

A drive is being made by organizations in each town toward this aim. It is reported. Friends of the movement claim majorities in each town favor
it.

Epidemic Breaks Out In Schoolroom

JEANNETTE, Pa., Oct. 17.—An epi-

in the Port Pitt school in the Sixth room taught by Miss Sailer. The room was closed and thoroughly fumigated and all the pupils whose parents would consent were given the antitoxin treatment. Some of the parents refused to allow the children to take the treatment. Anti-toxin has been administered as an immediate preventative. It is effective at once.

Other Schools Yield 840 Yale Freshmen

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Oct. 17.—More than one-fourth of 840 students admitted to Yale University as freshmen this fall went in by completing a four-year course in an accredited school and then taking exams in English and any three other subjects of their senior year. The plan worked out to take care of those sections of the country where schools do not offer preparatory courses so common in the east.

Of the 840 Yale freshmen ten were received by transfer from other colleges. A feature this year is that ten freshmen came from many foreign countries. Canada, Cuba, China, England, Japan and Spain are represented each sending one. Two are listed from Hawaii.

New York leads the list this year with 230, while Connecticut is second with 202. Other states are represented thus: California 9, Colorado 7, Dela-

Bank Teller Is Nabbed By Agents For Embezzlement

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—Accused of embezzling $1,700, Salvatore Didomenico, a teller for the Mellon National Bank, was arrested here Wednesday by government officials.

Federal authorities charged that the man juggled accounts to cover

Powdered Skimmilk Is Good Calf Feed

Powdered skimmilk is as satisfactory in raising dairy calves, after the first month, as is whole milk or skimmed milk from the separator, says County Agent McCulloch. Furthermore, the cost of raising calves can be very materially reduced by substituting skimmed or powdered milk for whole milk.

In preparing powdered milk for use it should be dissolved in warm water in the proportion of one pound of the milk powder to nine pounds of water.
The temperature of the water should be about 100 degrees Fahrenheit. The change from whole milk to skimmilk should be gradual. A common method is to substitute one pound of skim-milk for an equal amount of whole milk each day, until the whole milk is entirely eliminated. It is not necessary to feed more than one pound of skimmilk to each 8 or 10 pounds live weight of the calf. The milk should be fed warm and always in clean pails or troughs.

As soon as the change to skimmilk is started the calf should be taught to eat grain (equal parts of corn, oats, and wheat bran with the addition of a little oil meal make a good mixture) and have access to good quality hay, legume preferred.

As this season of the year when whole milk is comparatively scarce and the price higher than in spring and summer the greatest possible use should be made of milk substitutes in raising dairy calves, Mr. McCulloch declares.

NATURAL LAW

The most impressive thing in the world in which we live is natural law.
The most orderly and beautiful thing
in all the universe is natural law.
The most comforting thing in the life of mankind is his certainty of the workableness of natural law. Strange that people will gather together and pray for rain. Strange that like ignorant children they will petition their Creator and the Creator of the universe to set aside the natural law which governs everything that is. To be concerned in trying to have natural law set aside is sillier than sitting up nights to invent perpetual motion.

PRESSURE

You can't see the pressure of the atmosphere. But it is there—14.7 pounds to the square inch. You can't see public opinion, but start something and you will feel it. Young people can't understand some of the conventional rules by which average life is governed. But they will do well to learn about them as, in physics class, they learn about the pressure of the atmosphere. Pressure is very real, whether you can see it or not.

TRUSTING IN THE ROAD

It has been said that "all men of action know that he who never starts until he sees clearly every move in the

NURSE GIVES ENDORSEMENT TO KONJOLA

Sought For Years In Vain To Find
Relief—New Medicine Scores
Another Triumph.

MISS IDA WHITE

"When I started to take Konjola for nervousness, indigestion and a general run-down condition I was skeptical," said Miss Ida White, practical nurse, 609 North Eleventh street, Philadelphia, Penna. "As a practical nurse I had seen so many medicines and treatments fail that I had little faith left, and my own experience was anything but one to fill me with confidence. For years
I suffered, became steadily worse,
I had little or no ambition; my work
was a task."

"I decided to see if this Konjola had the merit it was supposed to have. Well, in three weeks my digestion was restored, my nerves were calm and collected, and I lost much excess weight, which was good for me. I never saw a medicine work like Konjola."

Konjola is sold in New Castle at tion.

You, too, may have a clear skin

Proud?
Justly so!

*Every person should have a clear skin.
If you have skin blemishes why not get rid of them PERMANENTLY?*

THOUSANDS of people have weak, impure blood—to this may be attributed pimples, boils, eczema, "run-down" systems, rheumatism and even more serious ailments.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get the number of your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, those pains usually called rheumatism, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to disease.

Throughout more than a hundred years S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It is Nature's own blood tonic for improving the appetite, clearing the body of so-called skin troubles, and building strength and resistance to disease.

S.S.S. increases the count of red-cells in the blood. Weak, impure blood is injurious to the system, lowering resistance to disease. Rich, red blood builds and sustains the body. S.S.S. helps Nature build rich, red blood. Good blood improves the processes by which the body is nourished, promotes constructive metabolism (healthy body building) and works against infection and disease. Take S.S.S. daily at mealtimes. To get full benefit you must take it regularly and over a sufficient period of time. At all Drug Stores. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

EVERY TIME WE THINK—

Unkindly of a friend we weaken the bonds of friendship.
Covetously of another's wealth we open our souls to temptations to dishonesty.

Lightly of a great fact we lose in the ability to think.
One thought of our own we do better than when we repeat ten thoughts of another.
Enviously of another's success we prove our own unworthiness of success.
We have done our best work we stand in a dangerous place.
Contemptuously of one virtue we make the attainment of others more difficult.

'Pep' Meeting For Collegians

Westminster Students To Cheer Blue And White
Friday Night

PREPARING FOR GROVE CITY GAME

Westminster College students will hold a pep meeting tomorrow evening in preparation for the Grove City game Saturday. Kenneth Hemer, New Kensington, cheer leader, will be assisted by Leander McComb, Bessemer; Louis Hazen, New Castle; and Fred Blaha, New Castle in directing the cheers and songs.

A number of new cheers and songs which promise to become Blue and White traditions will be practiced at the pep meeting. Speeches will be made by representatives of the student body and athletic department. It is possible that athletic awards for tennis and track of last spring will also be presented at the pep rally.

Since there will be a large number of alumni back on Friday for the dedication of the new building, it is possible that some former Westminster grid stars will be on the program for speeches.

The entire student body is on edge for the important homecoming day game with the Crimson. The rivalry of years, dating back to 1893, seems to give to this particular encounter a sort of glamor which no other district games can have for the U. P. student body and alumni. Tomorrow night's rally, starting at 9:30 following the dedicatory service in the new chapel, should go a long way toward getting the students in the right frame of mind for the Grove game.

Post Office Here Plans To Handle Christmas Rush

Officials Proceed With Arrangements While Holiday Is
Two Months Off

While Christmas is more than two months away Postmaster Edwin W. Crawford today made preliminary steps for handling the customary heavy volume of holiday mail.

Instructions from Washington have asked local officials to exercise as much pre-season effort as possible that service during the rush period may not be hampered to any great extent. Two weeks before Christmas the mail business grows heavier as the ordinary amount is supplemented with the enormous parcel post and postal card mail.

"Just a Step Ahead"

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Cites Need For More Chivalry

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

More than half the world can never know the mental anguish and emotional hardships of the expectant mother. Besides the many physical discomforts she endures, and depressions and anxieties she is inclined to have, she must also be subjected to untold annoyances which conventions and taboos of social customs thrust upon her.

Although the rank and file of adults are growing saner every day toward the expectant mother, the growth is very slow. She still feels it necessary to stay at home, particularly in the latter stages of pregnancy. The average husband still expects his obviously pregnant wife not to go about as usual. He still feels embarrassed to be with her in public, to go with her to church, or theater, or market. Why should he? Well, his father did, and his father's father too. The very fact that she gets less recreation, sees fewer people, subjects herself to more monotony, makes her think more about herself and causes her to be more sensitive to unusual annoyances. Added to it all is her awareness that, despite her hardships and self-sacrifices, the social world turns from her, slights her, and forgets her.

If there is anyone in all the world who is most in need of affection by those she loves, of consideration by everyone with whom she comes in contact, of warmest welcome everywhere, of recreation, freedom and companionship, it is the expectant mother.

When shall we live down, and rise above, the cruel, stupid custom of our fathers, of hanging millstones upon the necks of women who are going to be mothers? When shall we husbands cease so to curse our wives for bearing children? When shall we men acquire a chivalry to make us proud to go walking, to attend the theater, to go anywhere with our wives when they are noticeably pregnant?

There are some men who measure up to such a standard. In my classes of parents I have had a number of parent-couples of whom the mother was expectant. In several instances the child was born before the school term ended, the father announcing proudly to the class, much to the joy of all: "It is a girl," or "A boy of nine pounds."

As one mother said one day in class: "We ought to rear our boys to be good fathers as well as good men." The father who is considerate and very tender toward the mother of his boy when another baby is expected, will have a son who will be pretty sure to imitate him.

Mother, if you are expecting a new child, announce it to your older children, explaining where the baby is. Tell that boy of 10 or 15, if you know his comrade's mother soon expects a baby. Tell him that he has the opportunity to be a little less boisterous and noisy in her presence since, because of her condition, she is likely to grow weary and, at times, to be very sensitive to noise and commotion. Then observe how considerate he becomes, and how he warms up to you for treating him as if he were grown up.

We had an opportunity to teach our boys in early childhood and adolescence to feel a reverent emotion in the presence of an obviously expectant mother. Boys who so gain an early correct attitude toward motherhood are surely going to be very courteous and considerate of their wives just before the baby comes.

Baby Blimp Is Landed At Ellwood City Airport At Early Morning Hour

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 17.—The Goodyear blimp "Vigilantes" made a surprise visit over Ellwood City last night when the pilot became lost in going from Kane to Butler, and ran out of gas near here. The local police discovered the blimp moving about overhead, as it was a clear moonlight night.

The police notified W. R. Wright, in charge of the local airport, who in turn called several of the directors of the port and other volunteers, who drove out to the airport and turned the new floodlights on the field and after an hour's time the pilot of the Vigilantes succeeded in landing in the port. This was about 4 o'clock this morning. After resting a few hours and re-fueling, the Vigilantes again took off for its destination, Butler.

The blimp was observed this morning over the eastern end of the county and those who had been following its progress were puzzled as to where it had come from. Pilot Brannigan and Co-Pilot A. Monroe left Ellwood this morning after thanking the local airport officials for their courtesy.

Later it was learned that the blimp had been landed at the Ellwood airport this morning by volunteers after it had been seen flying over the city about 4 o'clock. The blimp apparently was about out of gas when it was landed. After a short stop at Ellwood it took the air again.

Miss Virginia Kerr was one of the reasons for the success of the evening with her four delightful readings. In memory of the members of the congregation who have passed on in the past six months Rev. Stevenson presented a basket of lovely chrysanthemums. He summoned little Dorothy Magee to the platform and transferred the flowers from one basket to another as he read the names. The little ceremony was most thoughtful and touching. At the conclusion Mr. Hutchinson chairman of the program committee gave a short talk.

Ellwood Team To Play Langley High Here On Saturday

Tubers To Make Bid For Fourth Victory Saturday When They Clast With Langley Here

(By TONY PASTA)

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 17.—Having won their first three games of the season Ellwood City High's school's fourth game will be against Langley High of Pittsburgh on the local field Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. They will again bid for a victory and it is hoped that the game will be an interesting one.

At the beginning of the season it was thought that only one team endangered the Tubers from copping the W. P. I. A. L. cup and that eleven is Aliquippa. From all reports it appears that Ellwood will have a foe worthy to battle this Saturday in Langley High which is equal to the Beaver Valley squad. This seems possible as both Langley and Aliquippa defeated South High of Pittsburgh by a 13-0 score.

Langley has played three games thus far and came out on top in two of the battles, topping South and Perry high schools by 13-0 scores. The first contest, with Oliver High, was lost.

Will overconfidence cause the Lee men to take a chance on this Pittsburgh team? From all indications Peck Lee is drilling his squad at a rapid pace and warns them that a stiff battle is to be expected. Light drills were held the first part of the week but a short scrimmage between the first and second teams took place last night.

On November 20, the society will meet again with Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. Herman Fleisher as hostesses.

Seven Hundred Fifty Battlers Clash Here

Bill Jolly's Pugilistic Venture Has Enlivened Fistic; Many Boys Who Boxed Here Now Enroute To Fame, Riches; Jimmy Dunn Most Consistent Manager.

By ED. FRITZ

There is no question but that the Jolly bowl has paved the way for the fame and riches of several pugilists and it looks as though the boys who go over big here will still receive golden opportunities.

One of the outstanding examples is the case of Tony Herrera who now is riding along Easy Street and it appears as though Fay Kosky will be in the same position soon. He was introduced here first and last night defeated Andy Martin at Providence, R. I.

Another who got his start in this city was Joey Goodman and right now he is in demand all over the country. When Emmett Rocco went so far as to outjab the experienced Battling Levinsky, it put him in the mind of the big promoters.

Henry Firpo has been a consistent winner and not so long ago boxed Jack McVey and though a draw was given New Castle people at the ring-side said Firpo won. Maxie Strub's surprisingly quick knockout over Jimmy Hackley, something entirely unexpected, is sure to land him a $10,000 house at Indianapolis, should Hackley and he clash again.

And in connection with this it might be said that had one cared they could have been enriched had they taken Hackley men's bids. When he entered the ring Hack was a toy. No one was more surprised than the writer as Hackley certainly had made a great record.

Since Billy Jolly climbed down from an engine to ascend the steps to a ring approximately 750 fighters have appeared here as at least 75 boxing shows have been staged with him as a promoter. Of the 75 approximately only five have been off color.

The fighters have come from Atlantic, Pacific, Gulf, lakeport, Cuba, Belgium, in fact from almost every place where boxing is held. Only one fighter has failed to appear, he having gone to New Castle, Indiana, instead of here which was an error.

Only Two Penalized
Of the 75 boxers and their managers who have appeared only two have been punished by the boxing commission, which shows that they all have put forward their honest effort. One, Fritz Otto, was disqualified for wrestling and the other was not a boxer, but a manager.

Johnny Inhouse, the manager of Maxie Brown was penalized for throwing the protector into the ring. It was an outward display of anger and was construed as an attempt to incense fans. As a result Inhouse was suspended.

Although the Midget Wolgast-Willie Davies bout drew the most money the most people who witnessed any fight was the Firpo-Perotta mill. Bouts which should have reaped big houses sometimes failed while lesser known lights were in the money.

Monday night a bout which is likened to the Davies-Wolgast match will be staged when Henry Firpo enter the ring. Both are on the ascendancy and the fighter who wins will be beckoned many places. There's no pugilistic love lost between them.

Of all the managers, the most consistent has been Jimmy Dunn, and in his case it is easy to explain. He is a great tutor and manager whereas other pilots are merely managers. Some of them put boys in rings who have never had the benefit of teaching.

Won't Accept Foul
There have been a few collection serves right, no decisions on foul. It might be that in this there is an error but remembering what happened in 75 bouts would be difficult without looking through the records.

And in this connection it might be said that good managers will not let their proteges win on a foul. Jimmy Dunn is one manager who says: "A win on a foul does it mean anything. I wouldn't let a fighter win on a foul."

A DIFFICULT CHOICE

New Castle Team In Fighting Mood

By "BUGS" WALTHER.

Fighting mad over the defeat handed them last Saturday by the Westinghouse high school gridders the New Castle team is tearing things loose this week in practice.

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh was not very well satisfied with that performance last week. The workouts so far this week have been quite strenuous. Vandergriff is due to meet an enraged New Castle team. If the locals play Saturday like they aver they will then the Tin City visitors will have a tough tussle on hands.

On paper Vandergriff high looks good, they have defeated Butler and Leechburg and are said to have a strong outfit. Coach "Ham" Hudson has long cherished the desire to hand his former instructor Phil Bridenbaugh a setback on the athletic field. The nearest he ever came to accomplishing this desire was the 0-6 tie that Mars and New Castle played a few years ago when Hudson was coaching the Butler county school.

Need New Center.
Hannon and McAuley are ready to rip off some nice long gains this week New Castle will probably have a new center in action. The red and black team will use a strong forward passing system against the Vandergriff team. New Castle seems to be having more than passing success with their aerial thrusts this year.

The New Castle team came out of the Westinghouse game somewhat bruised up. Several of the boys are complaining of injuries but they are minor ones. When New Castle takes the field Saturday they will seek to vindicate themselves for that upset at the hands of the Pittsburgh team.

The locals are not out of the running for the W. P. I. A. L. title.

Layton-Kieckhefer Deadlocked In Match

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Johnny Layton, world's champion three cushion billiards player, and August Kieckhefer today had split even in the first two blocks of their 300-point match. Layton, behind at the 12th inning yesterday, 20 to 2, displayed championship form to win 50 to 48 in the afternoon match.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 17.—Disappointed by the showing of the varsity yesterday when it scored on the scrubs only once during a fifty minute scrimmage, head coach Mal Stevens of Yale was expected to make several shifts in his first string lineup today. Speed was the only varsity back able to gain with any consistency through the scrub line.

Browlee May Start At End For Titans

Harry "Bud" Brownlee, lanky all-around athlete and former Lock Haven and Kiski star, may start at end for Westminster against Grove City. Brownlee proved in the Allegheny game that he can break up forward passing threats of the opponents, and if the Grovers are held in check on Saturday Westminster will have to stop their air barrage. Brownlee has won letters in basketball and track. In all probability he will add the third sports letter to his collection this fall. "Red" Crowell, Sharon, is the only three-letter athlete at Westminster.

Bear's Fullback Injures Foot In Chicago Workout

California Team Arrives In Philadelphia Singing The Blues

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—California's big football eleven was singing the blues when it arrived here during the night for the impending clash with Pennsylvania here Saturday. It seems that Clarence "Mose" Garrity, a 190-pound Irishman from Idaho, who plays fullback for the Golden Bears, developed some sort of a foot injury while working out at Stagg field, Chicago, on the eastward trip. He will be unable to start the game Saturday.

The 19 west coast athletes arrived shortly after 8 p. m. They were taken to the Manufacturer's club at Oceanland, Pa., but will visit Franklin field today to work out in preparation for Saturday's battle. "California will do its best to make it three in a row over Pennsylvania," Coach C. M. "Nibs" Price of the Bears told waiting newspapermen. "We beat Penn in 1924 and in 1927 on their trips to the coast," he explained.

Expect Record Crowd At New Wilmington

Washington High To Play Shenango

George Washington High's New Athletic Field Will Be Dedicated Friday

George Washington junior high school is stepping out in a big way. Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Euclid avenue school, the new athletic field will be dedicated. The Washington high football team meets Shenango high in the first game at the new field.

The Washington high team looks good this year. Last week they defeated Bessemer high 7 to 0 in a game at Bessemer. Franklin high beat them earlier in the year at Franklin field.

The Gillespie coached machine is going to amble forth with many new plays and formations this week, and they are highly confident of taking the strong Shenango team into camp.

Westminster College athletic officials are making plans to accommodate the largest football crowd in the history of Grove City-Westminster grid games here Saturday afternoon when the old rivals meet for the 34th time in the feature activity of the Titan homecoming celebration.

Workmen have spent the week getting the field in condition, cutting the grass, lining the field, and constructing the wooden stands. Robert Thorn, athletic director at Grove City, has ordered 1,000 tickets for Crimson rosters. A special section on the north side of the field will be reserved for the Grover cheering section. The Westminster body will occupy seats on the south side of the field, directly opposite from the Grove City crowd. Alumni, visitors, and friends of the college will have seats next to the student section. In all, Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald will have a seating capacity on the field of about 4,000. There will also be room for 100 automobiles to be parked near enough the field to see the game.

With good weather, 6,000 or 7,000 people should be on hand for the most important district battle of the day.

Screen Pass Rule Benefits Grid Fans As Well As Defensive Team---Bezdek

By HUGO BEZDEK

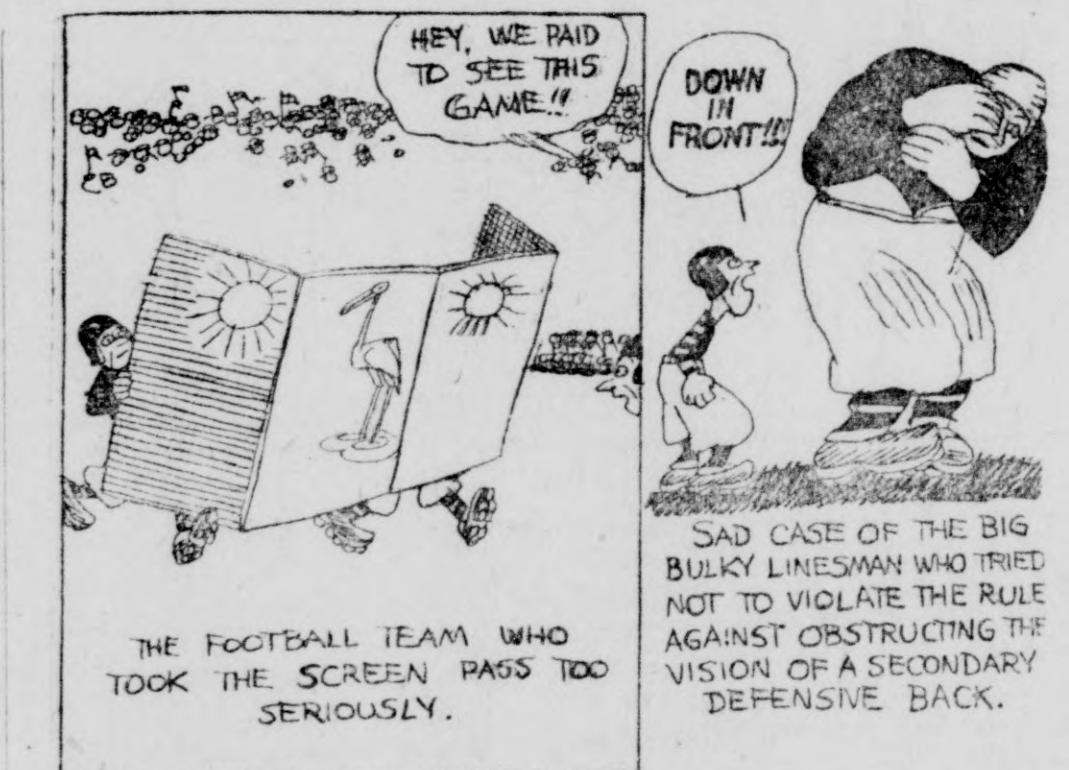

PENN STATE, Pa., Oct. 17.—When the forward pass came into being in an effort to open up football and lessen danger of injury which existed in old days during prevalence of plays depending partly on sheer physical power, the new rule stated that linemen were allowed to cross the line of scrimmage to hit secondary defensive backs, before or after a forward pass was made. The full meaning of this phase of the ruling was not taken advantage of by the coaches, although as it later turned out it gave tremendous advantage to an offensive team for protection of the receiver of a forward pass and in giving interference to a man after he caught the pass.

While coaching in the Northwest at the University of Oregon I had great difficulty in making long forward passes when the rainy season came on, which started in the middle of October. The ball was too slippery. Other devices had to be thought of so as to insure a safe passing game. The defense throughout that territory more or less discarded the threat of the long forward pass and charged in immediately to stop a running attack.

Necessity forced the coaches in two types. One where the ball was thrown end over end on the run and the other was a screen pass. The screen pass as first developed was to send the linemen down as soon as the ball was snapped to hit the secondary backs. The back who received the ball ran toward the side five to six steps, thereby allowing sufficient time for linemen to make contact with the secondary before he passed it. Then the ball was thrown to an end or halfback in the alley formed by the defensive line charging forward and the offensive line charging down the field.

One Legal Play
Under the original rule, this pass was perfectly legal, but one of considerable annoyance to the defense. Unless such a screen pass was perfectly timed there was an infringement of the rules. This caused a considerable amount of protest and complaint by the coaches in every part of the country. Due to these infringements, the Football Rules Committee after the 1927 season tried to eliminate this difficulty by ruling that no linemen could make contact with a secondary defensive back who was making an effort to knock down a forward pass.

In view of this ruling most colleges at once abandoned the play. However, on two occasions last season I saw the screen pass made in a different manner. In the Stanford Army game and the New York University-Carnegie Tech game the linemen were sent down in a fan formation, not making contact with the secondary backs, but hindering the line of vision by their running and presence of the defensive backs who were attempting to intercept or knock down a forward pass. This type of play was used more out on the Pacific coast than anywhere else. Evidently the revised rule did not fulfill its purpose. This year the Football Rules Committee has made it clear that even this type of interference must be stopped. The ruling is now worded in this fashion: That no linemen can pass the line of scrimmage on a forward pass except at his own risk—and when in this line men going down before the pass was made, the officials must inflict a penalty. If the rule is strictly enforced and wisely interpreted, there should be no interference whatever with a defensive halfback.

The screen pass, as used in the past, has a very disconcerting effect on the defensive linemen, who found themselves charging with no opponents to hit, as the offensive line avoided them and charged just as quickly down the field. The defensive line was puzzled as to what play was coming, and in consequence the line which had been stopping the backs, cross-backs, end runs and all running plays, would not charge forward as hard and as quickly.

Screen Pass Great Help
This play would destroy one of the

Army Will Not Be Able To Play Navy Gridders This Year

Cannot Arrange For Game Between Notre Dame And Stanford Battle

(International News Service) WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The Army will be unable to play a post-season game this year with the Navy, Major General William R. Smith, superintendent of the academy, said Wednesday. When told of Congressman Britten's remark that arrangements were being made for a post-season game, General Smith said: "It would be quite impossible for the Army team to play a football game between the Notre Dame contest on November 30 and the Stanford game on December 28 at Palo Alto, Calif. Mid-term examinations in all academic subjects for the entire corps of cadets will start Monday, Dec. 2, and continue until December 18. During this period every cadet must devote all his time to take these examinations and preparing for them."

Cleland Wins Guard Berth On Titan Team

DONALD CLELAND

Donald Cleland, husky Portersville lad, has won a varsity guard berth on Coach "Dike" Beede's Westminster football team this fall. Cleland was a member of the Titan grid squad three years ago. He dropped out of college and taught school for two years. Now he is back in uniform. Cleland, who weighs 188, was trying out for a tackle position, but Beede shifted him to guard for the Allegheny game. He played such a good game there that he will start at guard against Grove City Saturday.

Firpo And Fuller Vexed As They Train For Bout

Firpo Wants To Even Up And Fuller Pines To Land Kayo

STATEMENTS HAVE EMBITTERED BOXERS

By ED FRITZ.

More than the usual fire that is contained in a good pugilistic clash between middleweights will be on display when Henry Firpo, the Louisville slugger, battles Harry Fuller, the Niagara Falls whirlwind, at Jolly Bowl, Monday night. Somewhat pre-empted because Fuller captured a decision in a rousing rushing clash a week ago Monday Firpo wants to even up the count by stretching the big Irishman for a row of numerals. Fuller, somewhat aggrieved because Firpo took his forfeit for being over-weight will try his hardest to lay Firpo like a rag carpet.

Firpo and Fuller fought twice at Erie and the Louisville slugger put it over—at least he was given credit for winning but Fuller's manager, Al Fleurant, takes exception to the decision and maintains that Fuller actually won the fight. When Henry and Harry boxed here Fuller came in five pounds overweight and when he absolutely refused to take off the superfluous poundage, Firpo collected a $50 forfeit which caused Mr. Fuller's Irish, hence his whirlwind attack.

After the fight Fleurant gave Firpo the bee-haw and expressed the opinion that his Irish lad could use smiling eyes and whip Henry every day in the week. When this was carried to Jimmy Dunn, the champion maker, it did not set very well and Dunn set out to inveigle Fuller again into the ring with Firpo. "I was not here and they say Firpo flopped around like a dry duck. If Fuller will take him on again, I'll bring him here to train, put him in shape, go into that corner and Firpo may knock Fuller out."

This news was transmitted to Mr. Fleurant, he gave that French laugh of his and the argument started. Dunn wanted the weight at 160, as Firpo can make 158. Mr. Fleurant answered "No, nay, Jim, we beat your middleweight hope and if he wants it again he will have to listen to our side of the case."

After considerable bickering plus a long distance toll, Fleurant came down to 162, Dunn said the poundage would be all right and the terms came up.

Fuller raised his price and although the bowl has not been making any money for months, it was decided to give Fuller what he has asked as the bowl attaches figured that the fans wanted to have the question of superiority answered in no uncertain manner.

Terms with Dunn were made and now that Mr. Fuller and Henry the slugger are getting a fat price the fans should reap the benefit. The gate receipts will have to be over $3,000 before a penny profit enters the fingers of Bill Jolly.

As soon as the match was made Fuller fled to the gymnasium at Niagara Falls and commenced tearing off loose fat through the medium of extraordinarily hard exercise, as he has to do 162 pounds which will be several pounds lighter than when he first met Firpo. When they crawled into the ring a week ago Monday night Fuller weighed actually about 168 or 170 and Firpo about 162. After weighing in boxers take on several pounds weight by eating and drinking water and they were no mites when they clashed.

Fuller and Firpo would not get rich on the money they magnetized in their first appearance. In other words it was a Madison Square fight for a two dollar top. Fuller pleased the fans by knocking him to see Firpo knocked like a cocked hat. The Firpo element came back with the declaration:

"Yes, Fuller won but he fought as a light-heavyweight. Put him in the ring as a middleweight and Firpo will knock him 'Perotta.' This has stirred up some interest and it looks like a Davies-Woigast mixup here."

Severio to Battle.
Louis Severio the Meadville junior lightweight will battle Al Reno, the hard-hitting southpaw of Youngstown in one six round fight and Terry O'Roy, the fighting Norfolk Irishman, will tackle Paul Balint, Pittsburgh creation introduced to boxing by John Patrick Brannigan, but now managed by Jack White of Pittsburgh. O'Roy, the chap who fought Charlie Adams, believes he can beat Balint, something which Mr. Balint does not agree with. These two six round fights should be fights all the way.

Marshal Crochette, the fast fisted French kid from Utica, N. Y., will have his work cut out for him in a six rounder as he has been called upon to fight Young Folans of Beaver Falls who gave a boxing lesson to Roy Munter. They will weigh 120, give or take a pound. The pugilistic evening will be formally ushered in by Joe Murphy of Youngstown and Bad News Morgan of Beaver Falls, 150 pounders. Morgan has fought twice and put two fighters on the hospital list. Murphy is a tough, rugged miller according to Al Zill. The bouts start at 8:15 p. m.

Owing to the intense interest in the Firpo-Fuller fracas it has been decided that there will be no room for pass seekers and Monday night the deadhead list will be conspicuous by the presence of paid customers. During recent fights the courtesy of the pass has been seriously abused, hence the decision to eliminate the pass and free entry at the palace of punch.

Yankee Manager To Be Announced Today

Business Manager Barrows To Give Out Information This Afternoon

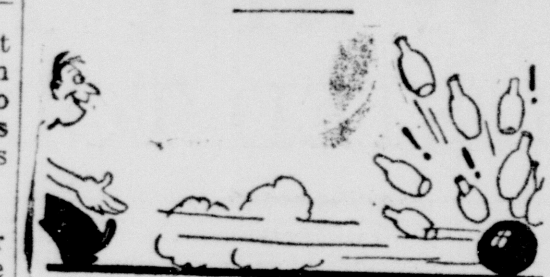

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The statement of Business Manager Ed Barrows of the Yankees announcing the successor of the late Miller Huggins, was awaited today. The decision to make known today the name of the man who is understood to be signed to a one-year contract, was contrary to a statement yesterday that the 1930 manager of the Yanks would not be disclosed until next Tuesday. The change of plans is thought to be due to a desire to get the matter over with and begin the rebuilding of the Yanks.

It is generally believed that Fletcher is the man to be named. Hardly less interesting than the subject of Huggins successor was the question of who McGraw would secure to replace Al Cohen at second base for the Giants. Cohen was sold yesterday to the Newark club of the International league. Unless McGraw makes a trade during the winter either Reese or Marshall will handle the second base job when the 1930 season gets underway.

At the same time the successor to Miller Huggins is announced at 5 o'clock this afternoon it is expected that the Yankee management will announce that Bob Meusel, star outfielder will be sold to the Cincinnati Reds.

A Big Ten Puzzle

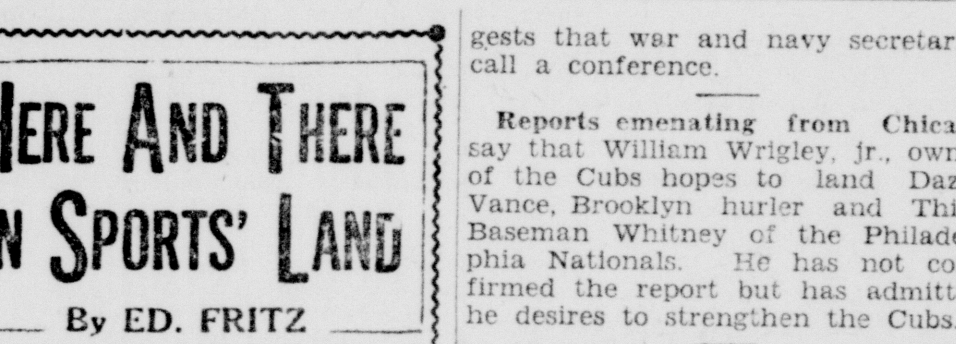

Minnesota ought to do much next Saturday to help solve the most talked of puzzle in the Big Ten Conference for after the Gophers get through with that "mystery"—Northwestern at Evanston, Ill.—football fans will be able to decide whether Coach Dick Hanley has a great, or just a mediocre, team.

Hanley's boys beat Minnesota last year by a single point and the back who scooped up the Gopher fumble to make a touchdown run in that thriller again is starting this season with the Evanston Methodists. He is Bill Calderwood, a part-time member of the Evanston police force and Hanley must have been thinking of that glorious feat when the above sketch was made.

Incidentally, Dick good naturedly predicts that "we'll beat Minnesota again with, or without help from the local police!"

Besides "Officer" Calderwood (who can do many things besides pinching

Joey Goodman will clash with Armando Schackels, Belgian lightweight and Henry Firpo will meet Jack McKenna in bouts at Cleveland tonight. Tuesday night Johnny Risko will take on Jim Maloney at Cleveland.

Jolly bowl has been enclosed and the furnaces are being put together. The furnaces will be started early on Monday morning and no difference how chilly it may be outside the bowl will be warm.

Andy Cohen, second baseman has been sold by the New York Giants to Newark of the International league. He has been in the National loop three years. Report says that John McGraw is angling for Critz of Cincinnati.

Low Fonseca, Cleveland first baseman and new batting champion of the American league is the most valuable player according to a vote of baseball writers representing each city in the circuit. The National league has not yet made its selection.

Chairman Britten of the house naval committee has asked President Hoover to insist that athletic relations be restored between West Point and Annapolis and that a football game be played this year. He suggested that war and navy secretaries call a conference.

Reports emanating from Chicago say that William Wrigley, Jr., owner of the Cubs hopes to land Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn hurler and Third Baseman Whitney of the Philadelphia Nationals. He has not confirmed the report but has admitted he desires to strengthen the Cubs.

Hack Wilson upon his return to Chicago told a cheering crowd: "When I'm going great you ride me; when I don't deserve credit you cheer me." That is the way with a part of the sportively inclined. They're jealous of the successful and sorry for the loser.

Paris Cangey of New Castle and Tug Phillips, Pittsburgh meet in a 10 round bout at Washington, Pa., tonight. Joe Midway and Lee Sala clash in a six round preliminary. Cangey and Phillips weight 140. Midway and Lee Sala are middleweights.

Union Opposes New Wilmington Team On Friday
Boyd Coached Eleven Is Confident Despite Injuries To Squad

Patience awaiting the hour when they depart for New Wilmington, the Boyd coached gridders of Union township high school this afternoon are enjoying a final rest before the referee's whistle brings them into action against the New Wilmington high school team at the college town athletic field on Friday afternoon.

Tomorrow's contest will mark Union's third game this season, every one of them, however, which took over New Wilmington earlier in the season, was their first victim, while the Shenango high squad met defeat at the hands of the blue and white crew last week.

Coach Boyd has been working his outfit every night to put them in shape for the test he expects tomorrow. A hard battle is promised, but the township lads from the west of the city are confident of handing a decisive setback to the New Wilmington team.

Coach Berry Is Driving Crimson Gridders Hard

Grove City College Hopes To Take Measure Of Beede Machine Saturday

BRILLIANT BATTLE IS LOOKED FOR

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 17.—Realizing the importance of Saturday's game with Westminster, the Grove City College football squad is responding to pressure applied by Coach Berry this week. The practice sessions so far have been marked by a new spirit as the Crimson prepares to meet its oldest district rival.

Wasting little time, Berry has had his men on the field early and kept them late every day this week. Every phase of defense and attack has been given attention. The backs have been used for long periods in stopping passes, throwing out Westminister's formations, and considerable improvement is noted. Scrimmage was on the program Wednesday for the first time this week.

Will Be Classic
Saturday's game at New Wilmington ranks as an early season classic, and will have decided bearing on the Class B title in the district. Westminister's victory over Allegheny, after the latter tied Geneva aroused deep concern in the Grove camp. A victory will put the Crimson out in front in the minor college race. Westminster has the advantage of two weeks of preparation, being idle last Saturday.

After 34 games, played since 1893, Grove City and Westminster are separated by only a few points in the total scoring. In that period, the East to West rivalry has been a credit with 307. Regardless of form displayed in games with other teams, two old rivals yearly manage to stage a brilliant battle and the outcome is always in doubt.

Grid Camp Briefs
(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Coach Crowley said today Columbia would go into Saturday's battle with Dartmouth in top form. Crowley was so satisfied with the Lions following yesterday's long scrimmage that he declared all heavy work in preparation for the game was completed.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The Army squad departs today for Cambridge and its game with Harvard. In a scrimmage yesterday against a scrub eleven using Harvard formations, the varsity showed it was master of all the way. The Cadet aerial games seems to be functioning well, with Cagle doing most of the flinging.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 17.—The Tiger football squad will leave tonight for Ithaca and the game with Cornell with the line-up to take the field still problematical. Yesterday's short scrimmage failed to reveal the starting line-up as Coach Roper was shifting the men all afternoon.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Cornell will send the same team that started the season against Princeton here on Saturday, Coach Dobie declared today.

Considerable time has been spent in signal practice this week in an effort to iron out some of the inefficiencies encountered.

Last Friday the team won easily find Moteza and Monico in the half-back positions; Jawarski calling signals; Augustine or Stockman at fullback; Davis and Latimer, both second string men, at the end positions; Dec and Severa at tackle, with Wallace at center and Petrowitz and Sniezek playing guard.

California Bears May Defeat Penn

Coast Team Making Quite Some Jaunt Eastward To Play University Of Penn

Benny Lom, California Backfield Man Rated Best In Country; Riegels To Play

By DAVIS J. WALSH
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—What price, miracles? Offhand, they seemed to be selling at 2 to 1 down here today, this being the current price on a University of California football team that was in the East for no other purpose than to make its miracle look the part of a commonplace, an experiment in human endurance such as football never before has sponsored. California will make its first appearance on an Eastern field against Pennsylvania here on Saturday and, if it wins, all other intersectional performances can be tossed out the window right on the car tracks, to die in their own blood. They won't be worth so much dead storage space in the morgue.

Harvard, Brown, Pennsylvania, Penn State, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Pittsburgh, W. and J. the Navy and other teams have taken the rap on the degree of success. They willingly took the worst of it and won their share of the games but this, after all, was only a game. They made the trip late in the year after recovering from the effects of the regular season.

What About Stanford?
It remained for Stanford to establish par last year when it played its climax game with California one Saturday and then arrived in the East, 3,000 miles away, to put the Bowser on the Army seven days later. The impressive feature of this performance was that Stanford could play its arch-rival, board a train, ride four days and still hold its form—in fact, improve it. However, the Army game was Stanford's last of the season. They could shoot with the everything and let the future ride as it would.

What, then, of a team that is taking a 6,000-mile trip in the middle of the season and no volley-ball season, at that? The trip back and forth requires upward of ten days; yet within a space of the adjacent two weeks, California is playing three opponents of major calibre—Washington State last Saturday, Pennsylvania this week end and the Olympic Club, always a good one, on October 23.

Nobody ever has tried anything like that before. It is one of those tricks like diving off the monument on one's head. Maybe one could do it but, somehow, one never wanted to find out about it. If the Bears get away with it, they will have a course record for the Trans-Continental Country Club. If they don't—

Bears Are Favored
A lot of people down here think they will get away with it.

Pennsylvania has avoided defeat perhaps because they have avoided playing anybody to date and the intellects here figure that the novelty of playing a somebody, instead of a nobody, will be too much for our side. Anyhow, Pennsylvania has a green team, whereas California's is largely veteran, except for the loss of Phillips, all American end, and the two tackles, Bancroft and Fitz.

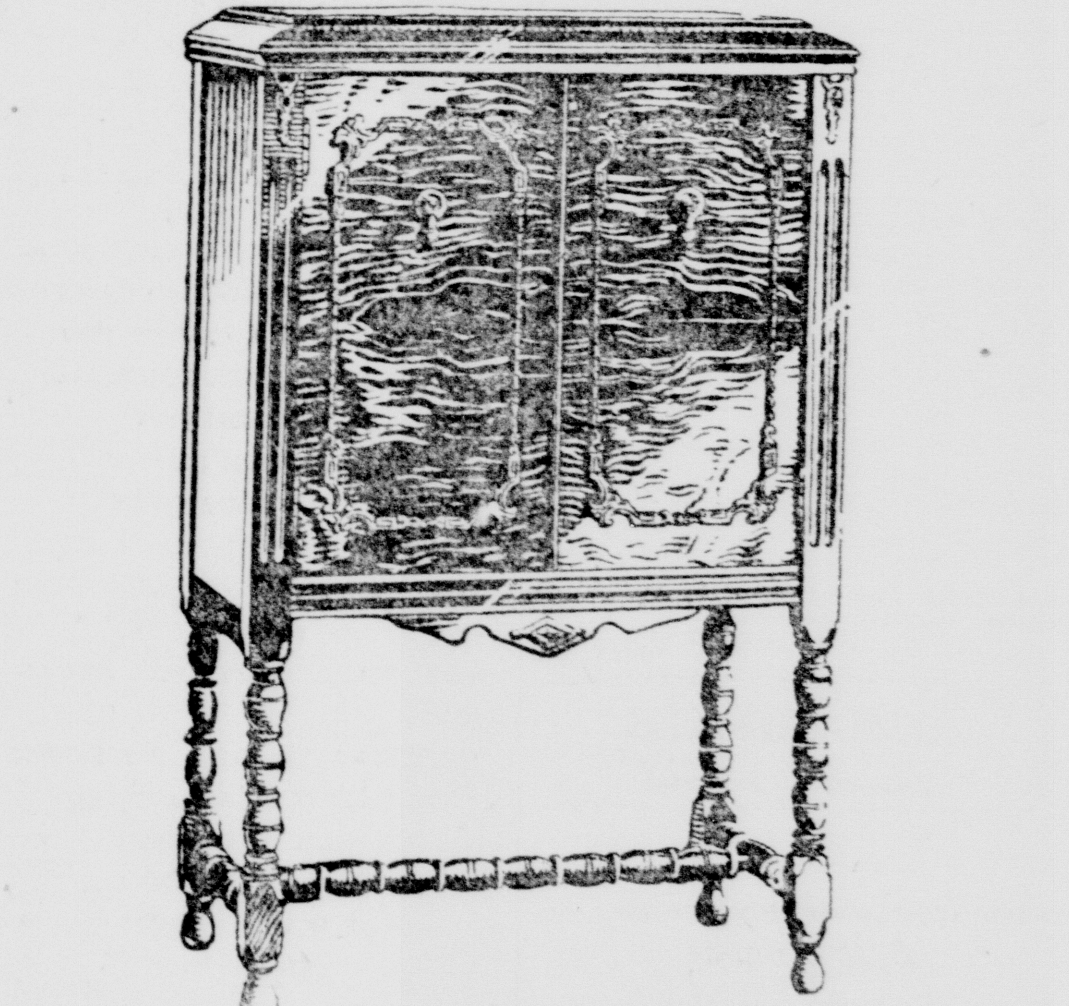

It still has Benny Lom, one of the great backs of the country; Riegels, the lad who reversed twenty-one men, including his own, by running the wrong way; Barr and Eisen, varsity backs of two years' standing; Harry Gill and Schwartz, two guards dating back beyond 1928; Norton, a two-year end, and a lot of good ones. If they were playing this game at the end of the season, it wouldn't appear possible that California could lose.

As it is, they have a fair chance of doing so, irrespective of their handicap of travel, climate and schedule. They can lose without further reference to these considerations, as a matter of fact. For when you beat a Pennsylvania team twice and then invade his own happy hunting ground to administer a third defeat, you are telling a bull to stop by waving a red lantern in front of him.

The odds may say otherwise but this is very likely to be quite a football game.

Late Edwin Denby Was Responsible For Oil Leasing

Fall Defense Counsel Places Blame For Elk Hills Leasing On Dead Man

DENBY'S TESTIMONY READ IN COURT

By GEORGE E. DURNO, International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Full responsibility for the leasing of the Elk Hills Naval Oil Reserve to E. L. Doheny was today saddled on the shoulders of a man now dead by the defense in the bribery trial of the former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall.

Edwin Denby, former Secretary of the Navy, was the man introduced to the jury as the guiding genius in the consummation of the lease that developed into a national scandal and brought about the indictment of Fall on a charge of having accepted a $100,000 bribe from Doheny.

The testimony of Denby at the conspiracy trial of Fall and Doheny three years ago was read to the jurors, the former navy chief having died last year.

"I took the responsibility, carried the responsibility and made the leases whether I wanted to or not," Denby was quoted as having testified.

He also had said that it was he who became convinced the naval reserves should be leased, and who went to President Harding and got the necessary executive order.

Police Asked To Hunt Man's Brother

A message received from Scuyler C. Kelley, coroner of San Diego, California, asked the authorities here to seek a brother of a man named G. Clark, who took his life in that city on October 2.

The message stated that the brother resided at either No. 2 East Moody or No. 2 West Moody avenue. Members of the police force located the man designated and found that he had had a brother in California but that his brother had returned to Cleveland about a month ago. In fact, he had received a letter from his brother at Cleveland within the last week. There was also a difference in initials of his brother and the man, who died in San Diego. The local man is quite convinced that the man in San Diego is not his brother but will investigate further in Cleveland.

The dead man was described as being about forty years of age, weighing about 150 pounds, having gray eyes, brown hair, heavy eyebrows and a scar about an inch and a half long on the under part of the forearm of the right arm.

Took Queer Method To Avoid Arrest

CHARLEROI Pa., Oct. 17.—Smearing his clothing with honey from a beehive John Tomanivich, 50, a vagrant of Hazel Kirk resisted arrest today and attempted to stab Constable Joseph Andrews of Pallowfield township in a floorless hovel where he made his home. "I live among my bees, making my own clothes and have no laws," he told the officer. He was arraigned on a charge of raiding chicken roosts and sheep pastures. Authorities found that he has an expert knowledge of bees and woodcraft.

Air Tour Flier Plane Is Smashed

Numbers Of Entrants In Reliability Tour Lessen As Accidents Occur

(International News Service)
WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 17.—Their numbers thinned by accidents and mechanical troubles, planes competing in the national reliability tour faced the starter's flag at the Municipal Airport here today with St. Joseph, Mo., and Des Moines, Iowa, on the day's schedule.

The most noteworthy of the losses thus far on the trip was recorded yesterday when D. Morgan Hackman's Fairchild entry cracked up near Fredonia, Kansas. Hackman, uninjured in the mishap was in fourth place in the standing for the Edsel Ford trophy.

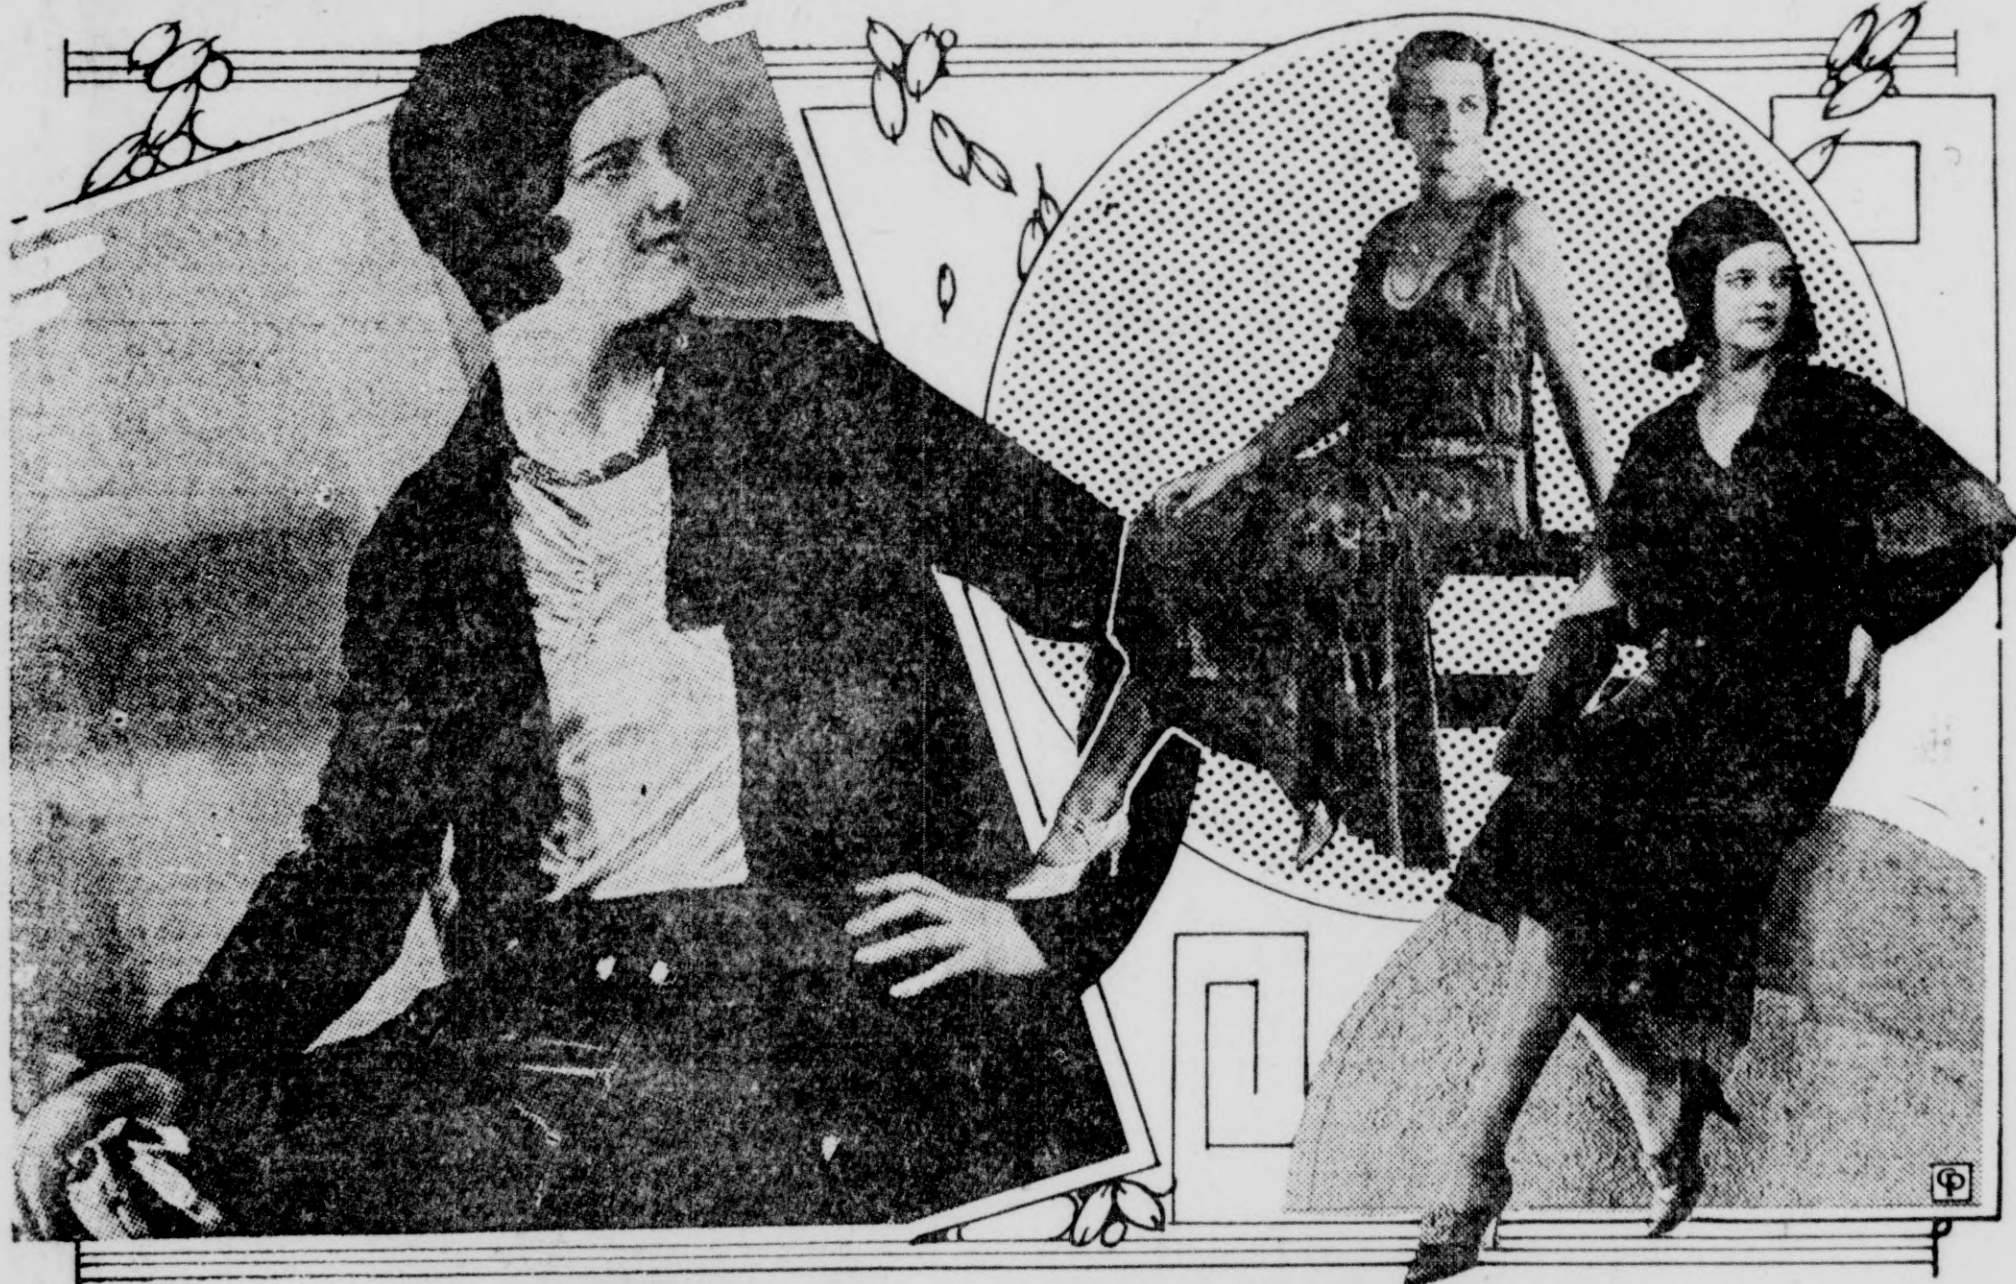

Hackman was flying low, according to his version, less than five feet off the ground, attempting to make up lost time against a headwind. As he looked out of the cockpit to survey his route, the elastic on his goggles snapped. Momentarily blinded by the rush of wind, he was helpless as the plane struck an air bump and crashed into the ground. His left wing crumpled and his landing gear was wrecked before he brought the white biplane to a stop.

With the Fairchild entry definitely out, four officials awaited word from Forest O'Brien, co-holder of the endurance flight record; J. L. McGrady and Capt. Russell Young. O'Brien and Young who were flying respectively a Curtiss Thrush and a Ryan entry, were forced down by motor difficulties on the St. Louis to Springfield, Mo., hop. McGrady in a Robin failed to leave St. Louis.

VELVET AND LAME ARE AMONG THE SMARTEST OF AUTUMN FABRICS

Lame and velvet for evening, also flat crepes, failles and satins; crepes and wool crepes for the afternoon and street. These are leading fabrics for fall. Particularly chic is the little afternoon three-piece suit, left, of transparent rayon velvet with a panne velvet tuck-in blouse. Very feminine it is, but not fussy. Illustrated, right, is one of the new cape collars which ends in a tie at the front and is bordered with closely clipped baby caracul. The material is a heavy rayon and silk flat crepe. The higher waistline is indicated and the hat follows the lines of the cape. In the evening gown of lame, too, the higher waistline is indicated by the narrow belt, while in the seeming contradiction, the skirt is attached to the bodice at a lower line, giving the dual effect so smart at the moment.

Pouring Concrete In Pulaski This Morning

County Commissioner Calvin Boyd reports that the contractor in charge of improvements on the Pulaski-Wilmington road began pouring concrete in the village of Pulaski this morning. The eastern end of the road has been completed. It is a little over a mile from the village of Pulaski to the section of the road which has already been improved. With good weather it is believed that this will be completed in a few days, as the route has been graded ready for the concrete.

Has the laxative in your home a family doctor's approval?

MOST of us value our health too much to purposely neglect ourselves when we are warned of constipation by bad breath, feverishness, biliousness, a headache, lack of appetite, or the continuation of our trouble is more often due to the things we do rather than the things we leave undone. Some things people do to help the bowels really weaken these organs. Only a doctor knows what things will cleanse the system without harm. That's why the laxative in your home should have a family doctor's approval. A wonderful product now known to millions of people as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a family doctor's prescription for sluggish bowels. It never varies from the original prescription which Dr. Caldwell wrote thousands of times in his many years of practice at Monticello, Illinois. He proved it safe and reliable for women and children; thoroughly effective for the most robust men. He showed it actually corrects constipation. It is made from fresh herbs and other pure ingredients. Since Dr. Caldwell first permitted his prescription to be put up in bottles and sold through drug stores, it has increased steadily in popularity until today it is the largest selling laxative in the world!
